UAW urged to fight automakers' move to build abroad

DETROIT (AP)—Delegates to a United Auto Workers conference are pressing the union's leadership to fight what they say is a growing move by the auto industry to build cars and components abroad for import here at the expense of American jobs.

At a day-long session Thursday, speaker after speaker expressed fears that unemployment in the United States will rise if the industry continues to shut U.S. plants and invests capital abroad because of cheaper labor costs.

"As long as the Ford Motor Co. can make more profit by subcontracting out jobs — producing these jobs in other countries and importing them (cars) back into this country — we are going to suffer as workers," said Henry Wilson of Ford Local 600 in Dearborn, Mich.

About 1,000 UAW production worker delegates are meeting here this week to make recommendations for the union's fall contract talks with the auto and farm implement industries.

Current three-year pacts covering 850,000 workers expire in September.

The broadly supported call for an assault on the industry's growing investment abroad marked the first time floor speakers departed from the UAW leadership's carefully orchestrated agenda for the three-day session, which opened on Wednesday.

The issue was raised in response to a formal subcontracting resolution that union negotiators seek contract language which would halt the auto companies from farming out work performed by union members to nonunion shops in this country.

The resolution, however, did not speak to the issue of foreign plant investment, and several delegates called on union leaders to take a more assertive stance on their behalf.

"The international hasn't taken aggressive action to stop this," charged Bob Bruce of Ford Local 1250 in Cleveland. "We want tariffs in this country that are as high as tariffs in other countries."

UAW Vice President Ken Bannon, head of the union's Ford department, told reporters after the debate that the leadership has no intention of lagging on the issue. He conceded, however, that the union should have presented delegates with a formal resolution.

"Our leadership supports parity of tariffs. And we can tell management: 'If you close down a plant to go overseas, we want job guarantees for the people in that plant,'" he said.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock, however, appeared cool to the issue. In a rebuttal to the floor speeches, he noted that the United States had its most favorable balance of trade in history last year.

He also said most industrialized Democratic nations have narrowed the wage gap with the United States.

"It's the underdeveloped countries that undercut us," he added.

New life styles clouding enrollment projections for area school districts

Childless marriages, buying of homes by more singles cited

By BOB NAGEY
PB Staff Writer

An apparent growth in the practice of alternative life styles in which marriage and children are not the main or immediate considerations is playing havoc with projections of school districts in the valley.

Most districts say that although construction of dwelling units in their areas is up, enrollment of students is down.

And the Pomona Valley Board of Realtors reports that though the majority of residential sales are to young married couples without children, a large percentage of the new buyers are unmarried residents, often women.

While the realty board has no statistics for apartment dwellers, Realtors say those units are being occupied by more single people than ever before.

Whether the reason is the pill, a reassessment of social mores and values, a preoccupation with finding oneself or plain practical considerations, educators agree that the birthrate has been down for several years now and not all classrooms are being filled.

They contend that the vast majority of the population still believes in the traditional life of marriage and children, but even in the most traditional cases young couples are waiting longer before having children.

Southland psychotherapist Nan Corby, whose special interest is the study of alternative life styles, says the growing acceptance of different ways of living is also spreading in the San Fernando Valley and Orange County.

"It started out in Los Angeles, but now it's moving out into the suburbs," she reports. "A lot of people are finding satisfaction in approaches to life that are different from the traditional families."

Years ago, school administrators would figure that for every family who moved into a new home there would be an average of 2½ children. All that apparently has changed. Now the formula is less than one child per home.

"Last year 800 new dwellings were built in our district," Bonita Supt. James Johnson said. "They gave us 300 children. Clearly, most of the new homes are being bought by couples without children."

As a result, Bonita is experiencing a 1½ per cent drop from its enrollment of 7,836 a year ago.

A similar situation exists in Claremont, where enrollment is down 2½ per cent from last year. Claremont has lost 1,188 children during the past seven years for a drop of 19 per cent since 1968.

Jean Hazelton, the district's public information officer, thinks that alternative life styles, quite different from those of past generations, are largely responsible.

"Houses are occupied, but instead of the conventional families with two or three children, we have single people or young marrieds, or families with one child," she explained. "Often people not related to each other move into a house to share expenses, a practical consideration. In other cases, people buy larger houses because they want extra room, not because they have a lot of children."

Charles Robar, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel of the Ontario-Montclair Elementary School District, where enrollment has dropped one percent last year and which lost 1,568 children during the past five years says attendance is beginning to bottom out. But he no longer looks for 2½ children per home; he expects one child for every two homes.

"Sure, homes are being sold," he explains. "But those who are buying are young people with double incomes. If the wife drops out of the labor force to have a child, the couple can't keep the payments."

He said another significant factor was the number of single homeowners who invite others to join them to share expenses. "It's very difficult to buy a home on just one salary nowadays."

Even in the Pomona School District, where 700 vacant homes were reoccupied last year as a result of concerted efforts to resell abandoned homes owned by the government, the increase in enrollment amounted to only 85 students.

Acting Supt. Sidney Moses says he expects the downtrend to continue for at least two more years.

Survey finds most doctors still on job

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

Valley doctors may not be seeing non-emergency patients, but they're not all out playing golf either.

A survey Thursday of the offices of many primary care physicians — internists and general practitioners — found that the doctors are still "on the job."

All office calls were answered by receptionists.

In some cases, especially in Pomona, the physician is still seeing all of his patients. A spot-check of patients reported that appointments previously made are being honored.

One Upland doctor was not in his office, but was reached at San Antonio Community Hospital, where he was making rounds of his patients.

It appears that some general practioners who recently joined the slowdown started on Jan. 1 by the surgeons and anesthesiologists are using any available time to attend meetings on the insurance crisis or catch up on office work.

While about 75 per cent of the primary care physicians in the Los Angeles area and San Fernando Valley are participating in the slowdown, spokesmen said about 50 per cent of the local general practitioners have joined the protest.

Dr. John Southwell, Upland surgeon, explained the percentages by saying "Doctors have a wide range of feelings on the subject. Some are militant, while others can be compared to ostriches. They hope the whole problem will go away if they ignore it.

"But the basic problem is that there is no fiscal way we can handle the premiums we are being asked to pay for medical malpractice insurance.

"Not all doctors are wealthy."

Dr. Southwell added that he recently served five years in India, not a lucrative job.

Spokesmen for local medical groups indicate that the protest will continue until Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s representatives, the state legislature and physicians' groups offer some reasonable solutions to the insurance crisis.

Seminoles sell Florida to U.S. for $16 million

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — The Seminole Indians, forced off their tribal lands by U.S. troops more than 100 years ago and pressing their claims ever since, have agreed to sell Florida.

About 300 members of the tribe voted overwhelmingly Thursday to accept $16 million from the federal government as compensation to the 4,000 to 12,000 modern-day Seminoles for 32 million acres of land covering nearly the entire peninsula.

The Seminoles originally sought $47 million for about 40 million acres, and Chief Howard Tommie said the final offer was "nowhere near what the land is worth.

"But if we try to press it and the mood of the government changes, we could be left without a dime. Our lawyers say this is the best we can do. Who has another 25 years to fight?"

The offer, accepted after myriad legal battles since 1949, amounts to about 50 cents an acre for land that includes Miami Beach, Disney World and Cape Canaveral.

The land was seized by Gen. Andrew Jackson during the Seminole Wars of 1823 and 1832 and under the Indian Removal Act of 1840. Appraisers said the land was then worth three cents to $2.50 an acre.

The federal government earlier rejected Seminole claims to land above the Old Spanish Road between St. Augustine and Pensacola and other areas covered by old Spanish land grants.

Only eight votes were cast against the final settlement at the packed meeting Thursday night conducted in three languauges — Miccosukee, the Seminole language; Creek, a related language some Seminoles speak; and English.

Tommie warned that it could be years before tribal members get their money.

The settlement must be reviewed by the U.S. Indian Claims Commission, the money must be appropriated by Congress and the payment must be divided among Seminoles in Florida and in Oklahoma.

Kissinger ends Russ talks on warm note

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger ended talks with Soviet leaders today and flew here to tell North Atlantic leaders that the Soviets have put forward "some significant and constructive new ideas" for a nuclear weapons treaty.

The package deal taking shape would reduce by about 10 per cent the strategic bombers and missiles allowed to either side. It would also provide a compromise on the two principal difficulties — Soviet Backfire bombers and American cruise missiles.

U.S. officials said that, while "a hell of a lot of work remains to be done," if all goes smoothly Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev could be in Washington as early as May to sign the new treaty with President Ford.

Kissinger evidently was much less successful in his Kremlin talks on Angola. He reminded Brezhnev that Soviet support for a Marxist faction in the African civil war was undercutting detente in the eyes of the American people. But Kissinger made no apparent headway.

The secretary of state said that a report by newsman John Scali, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, that Kissinger might resign because he couldn't persuade the Soviets to end their support of the Popular Movement (MPLA) in Angola was "ridiculous."

Despite the absence of a breakthrough in nuclear weapons negotiations, Kissinger and his top aides laid claim to "significant progress." Reporters were told at least two issues were essentially resolved — the definition of light and heavy missiles and how to deal with American cruise missiles launched from the air.

Suspect in teacher rape case attempts to hang himself

CHICAGO (AP) — A 21-year-old Chicago man accused of trying to rape a school teacher in front of her first-grade class tried to hang himself early today in a police jail cell, officers said.

The suspect, Carl Roy Thurmond, was revived with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and put under constant surveillance, police said.

Officers said Thurmond was found on the floor during a routine check of the cell block. He had his sweater tied around his neck and it appeared, a policeman said, that he had tied the sweater to the cell bars and the knot slipped.

British claim U.S. harming allies by airing CIA laundry

LONDON (AP) — The United States is harming its allies as well as itself with too many revelations about the CIA and the private lives of presidents, conservative British newspapers complain.

"The self-criticism and self-destructive tendencies are running mad," declared one editorial in the Daily Telegraph. "The United States should know that her European cousins and allies are appalled and disgusted by the present disarray of her public life."

This defense of the American establishment seems limited to Britain. On the continent, few have publicly taken sides in the controversy over the Central Intelligence Agency. Le Monde, one of France's most respected papers, took the view that exposure of U.S. diplomats doubling as agents has cast doubt "on the credibility of the country's entire foreign policy."

The British left tends to welcome the naming of CIA agents and activities or laugh at the furor over it. When the Socialist Worker printed names and addresses of five alleged agents on Jan. 21, Laborite member of Parliament Stan Newens asserted:

"The whole record of the CIA, wherever they are based, is one of intervention ... often as a result of their activities many people have died violently."

Another Laborite MP, Paul Rose, found the publication "mildly amusing. Everyone involved in this sort of activity knows just who is collecting information and for whom."

British laws and traditions shut the country's lively press entirely out of certain prohibited areas. A wide-ranging, though seldom invoked, Official Secrets Act makes it technically a crime for a civil servant to tell a reporter what time his boss has his coffee break, let alone expose the secret service that so masterfully and memorably foxed the Germans in World War II.

There are tough libel laws, rules against publishing most pretrial information in criminal cases and a number of voluntary arrangements restricting full flow of information about government activities and the royal family.

The right-leaning Daily Express accused Americans of "indulging in a grotesque amount of self-debasement."

Four alternatives to nuclear plant initiative offered

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The sponsors of bills to stop future nuclear power plant construction in California without certain safeguards say they're trying to keep the door open to safe nuclear power.

That's what Assemblyman Terry Goggin, D-San Bernardino, said at a news conference Thursday when four bills were introduced as alternatives to the controversial nuclear power plant initiative on the June 8 ballot.

Goggin said the initiative is "overdrawn" and "forecloses the nuclear issue permanently, even if problems are solved in the future."

Initiative proponents, who say only the legislature could made such a far-reaching decision under the initiative, support the bills but will not let up in their campaign.

Foes of the initiative said the legislative approach is better than a "drastic" initiative, but neither way is constitutionally correct.

The measures from members of the Assembly Resources, Land Use and Energy Committee would:

—Require the state Energy Commission to study the feasibility of burying nuclear reactors or covering them with concrete and dirt. This would reduce the threat of harm from a meltdown, said Goggin, the bill's chief author.

—Require legislative approval of a method chosen by the Energy Commission to reprocess nuclear fuel before a nuclear plant could be built. Goggin also sponsors this bill.

—Require federal government to find a permanent way to store radioactive wastes. This bill is carried by Assemblymen Charles Warren, D-Los Angeles, and Bruce Nestande, R-Anaheim.

—Require unlimited liability of plant operators for damages in the event of an accident. This bill is carried by Assemblyman Lawrence Kapiloff, D-San Diego.

The authors, led by committee chairman Warren, told a news conference the bills represent a responsible reaction by the legislature to problems uncovered in last year's committee hearings on nuclear power.

The initiative would impose safety limits that opponents say would eventually stop all nuclear power generation in the state, halt future construction and phase out existing plants.

"If these four bills pass and are approved by the governor, I would say it would make it more difficult for the initiative to pass" because major portions would already be covered by law, Warren said.

However, Warren said he wanted to stress that "this package is not designed to be a vehicle for defeat of the nuclear initiative." He said he is neutral on the initiative.

The bills would provide many of the same nuclear restraints that the initiative would impose, such as a waiver or elimination of federal Price-Anderson Act insurance liability limits.

The bills would not affect current or already approved plants. They would allow a majority of the legislature to ratify safeguards, not two-thirds as required by the initiative.

But Larry Levine of the pro-initiative Californians for Nuclear Safeguards said the measures would also reduce the responsibility of the legislature to decide California's nuclear future.

'PAT' BROWN

Pat Brown gives Jerry until March to decide

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. should decide by March 1 if he wants to be California's favorite-son presidential candidate, or his father will endorse someone else, says Edmund G. "Pat" Brown.

The elder Brown, who was California governor from 1959 through 1966, said in a telephone interview Thursday from his Los Angeles law office that he wants his 37-year-old son to lead California's delegation to the Democratic National Convention this summer.

But he stressed that he is not proposing that "Jerry" Brown actually seek the presidency. Brown said his son could serve as a necessary unifying force for the California delegation.

The elder Brown also said he doesn't know his son's plans. He said he could not confirm or refute a Pasadena Star-News report that Brown plans to be a favorite-son candidate in the California primary.

Young Brown continued to maintain he is not a candidate for president but has not made up his mind about a favorite son candidacy.

The governor said Thursday through a spokesman that the Star-News story "has no basis in fact. It's not true."

The spokesman, press secretary Bill Stall, said Brown "has not made a decision yet in regard to the California primary."

Brown Sr. said he has been asked by "just about" every Democratic candidate for president to lead their California campaigns, but has withheld an endorsement that he admitted would be embarrassing if his son decides to lead an uncommitted or favorite son delegation.

"I don't know what to do now. I'm waiting for Jerry to decide. He has shown excellent political judgment so far. But if he doesn't make a move by March 1, I'll have to make a decision."

Asked whom he might endorse, he said, "I don't know. They're all good candidates."

With few exceptions, such as former Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti's backing of Sen. Birch Bayh and former Speaker Jesse Unruh's support of Sen. Henry Jackson, Democratic leaders in California are waiting for young Brown's decision, the father said.

"I've discussed it with Jerry, and he's given me the same answers I presume he's given you people," the former governor said.

"I'm not going to urge him to take any particular action but as governor of the state he owes it to the people of California" to be their favorite-son candidate.

"People like myself are watching and waiting. Jerry ought to lead a cross-section of the people of California and I urge him to do it.

"I'm not proposing that he should be a serious candidate for president and actively campaign in all 50 states. But California needs a unified delegation" and young Brown would unify it, the father said.

He added: "I think he could accept a draft (for the presidential nomination) and the people of California would accept it."

Bill for public financing of elections dropped

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Public financing of state elections, the year's major political reform proposal in California, has been scuttled by its liberal Assembly sponsors.

The move Thursday brought cries of betrayal from Common Cause, the citizens' group that was pushing the measure for partial public financing as a move against the political power of big donors.

Assemblyman Howard Berman, D-Beverly Hills, told reporters he was taking his bill off the Assembly Ways and Means Committee calendar. Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy also said he was withdrawing support from the measure, effectively killing it.

Berman, the Assembly's majority floor leader, said he still favored public financing and hoped to draft a new bill later this year.

But he said he'd been persuaded by "political science professors" and other experts that the current bill would favor incumbents and restrict free speech.

But Common Cause state chairman Michael Walsh maintained, "Berman's real problems are political. He tested the water in Sacramento and found it too hot.... Fundamental doubts don't arise overnight, not after seven months."

The bill would provide public money to each statewide or legislative candidate who could show a certain amount of public support, in either dollars or signatures.

Berman estimated it would cost $80 million every four years, and said it would be a bargain if the bill worked.

Almost 75 per cent of county doctors not working

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Many family doctors have closed up shop for two days, doubling the number of doctors in the slowdown over malpractice insurance rate hikes in Southern California.

A random sampling of nearly 300 Los Angeles County doctors revealed that about three-fourths of them were not at work Thursday.

Most of the doctors in the slowdown that began Jan. 1 have been surgeons and specialists, but family doctors agreed to show their support by a two-day walkout.

The Southern California Hospital Council said Thursday that 110 of 234 member institutions are now suffering the effects of the protest. The council said 6,020 hospital workers have been laid off, 1,342 have been given pay cuts, 22,578 had their hours reduced and 560 had been given "vacations" during the crisis.

Patients are having trouble finding non-emergency medical care.

"We're getting all kinds of calls," said a telephone worker for the Los Angeles County Medical Association's emergency patient-referral hotline, "and we don't have any doctors to give them to."

The calls ran about 25 per cent ahead of the daily average of 200, and spokesmen said most of them were from patients of family doctors whose offices were closed until Monday.

Doctors in San Diego County joined the two-day walkout, closing offices and canceling elective surgery in several hospitals.

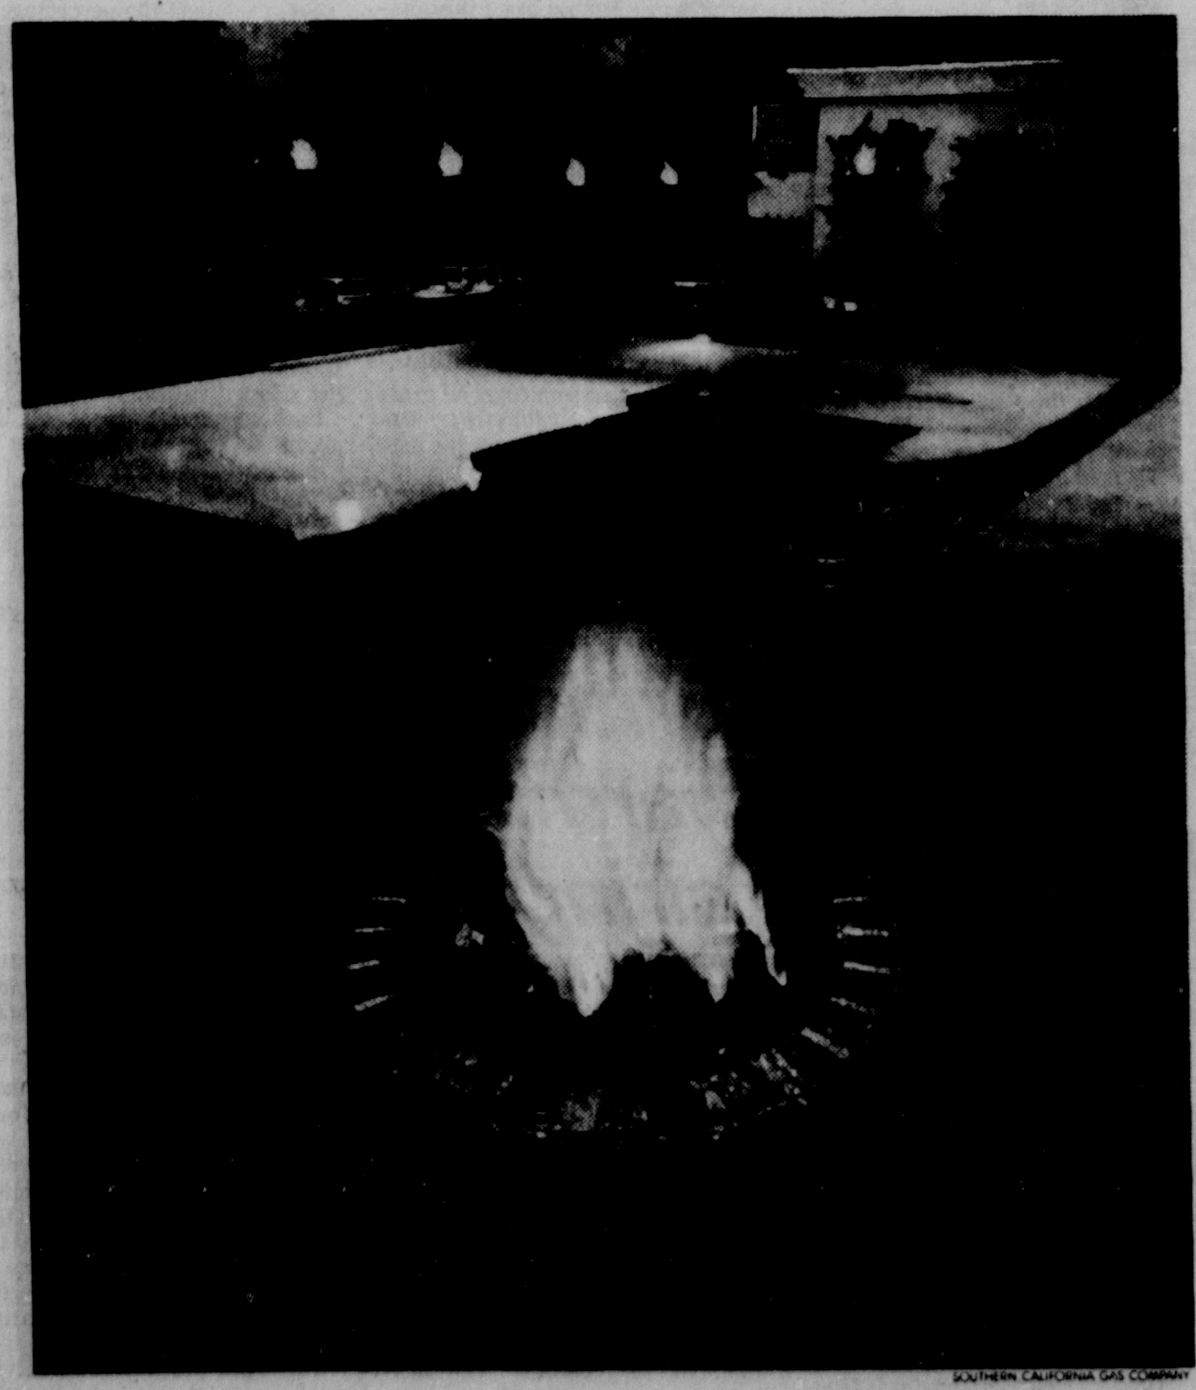
The San Diego County Medical Society estimated that as many as two-thirds of the county's 1,600 practicing physicians may be involved in the work slowdown.

The medical society and San Diego County's Hospital Council designated 30 county hospitals where emergency treatment would be available and promised no one would be denied urgent medical aid.

Los Angeles County's emergency operations center, which coordinates hospital referrals, reported little immediate effect from the strike.

"Probably we would feel it," said Gaylord Ailshie, spokesman for the EOC, "but I cannot see today any major increase to lead me to believe that we've been hurt yet. Our census is up, but it's been going up about the same amount every day."

The patient census at Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center was up 55 cases to 3,702, said hospital spokesman Tony Tripi.



SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA GAS COMPANY

What a beautiful waste of energy.

This is no time for tiki torches. Or pool heaters. Or patio heaters. Or gas fire pits. Or gas lights. Or flaming ponds.

As we've been telling you, the natural gas shortage is getting worse. So we should be doing everything we can to save natural gas. Outside the house. And inside.

Set your heating thermostat no higher than 68°.

Take a fast shower instead of a slow bath.

Set your water heater thermostat dial below the normal or middle mark.

Fix leaky hot water faucets.

Wash and dry only full loads of laundry.

Run your dishwasher only with a full load.

Cover pots and pans when cooking.

Make sure your house is well-insulated.

These are just some of the things all of us can do to save energy. What they add up to is a change in lifestyle. A change that must be made if we are to conserve the energy that helps make life beautiful.

Energy is our business. Conserving energy is everyone's business.

Claremont's recall petitions circulate beginning Saturday

The Claremont Committee for Recall has announced that the campaign to gather signatures on petitions to recall three school board members will begin Saturday.

Citizens willing to walk precincts with petitions during the initial push of the campaign to recall board members William Anderson, Beverly Shacklett and Ernest Taylor attended a training meeting Thursday at recall headquarters, 520 W. First St.

A petition-signing party will be held Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at recall headquarters. Many open houses where the public may obtain information about the recall and may sign petitions will be held in many neighborhoods Sunday through Tuesday.

New members of the recall steering committee are Hugh Barnett, John McGwire, Kent Stanley, Jerry Vandevoort, Ann Gallagher, Steve Jackson, Alice Oglesby and Ralph Spaulding.

The committee requested that the public cooperate with the city in the use of outdoor signs. A publicity committee is now having signs printed which will conform to city ordinances.

Over enrollment may hurt the universities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California President David S. Saxon says an over-enrollment "emergency" could leave the university system without sufficient budgeted funds for 1976-77.

"The most significant issue is the lack of funding to meet the full instructional and support workload costs associated with our anticipated enrollment for 1976-77," Saxon told the UC Regents Finance Committee in commenting Thursday on Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s proposed $644 million UC budget.

Saxon said the university is over-enrolled by about 3,400 for 1975-76. He said a provision exists for a one-time allocation to cope with over-enrollment costs, but there is no provision for "a continuing allocation to accommodate these additional students throughout their stay at the University."

Saxon is recommending that the regents seek a $1.8 million supplementary appropiation because of the "enrollment emergency."

'Kojak' caught napping

LOS ANGELES (AP) — That's Kojak spelled with three Zs.

Kojak, a great dane guard dog, apparently slept through a $30,000 burglary Thursday, authorities said. The dog was a gift from Raymond Burr, who plays the title role in the "Ironside" television series, to Don Mitchell, who played Burr's trusty bodyguard, Mark.

Burglars ransacked the home of Mitchell and his wife, actress Judy Pace, while the couple were at a studio meeting to discuss starring in a detective movie, a spokesman for Mitchell said.

An estimated $30,000 worth of jewelry, furs and stereo equipment was taken, Mitchell told police investigators.

When they got home, he said, the house was a shambles and Kojak was snoring.

Farm board wins one battle

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The extra $3.8 million to sustain California's new farm labor board is headed for the Senate floor where farm-belt legislators are waiting with everything but short-handled hoes.

The appropriation barely passed its first committee test late Thursday.

Farm-belt legislators say they'd rather plow under the country's first Agricultural Labor Relations Act than continue what they call the pro-labor administration of farm labor union representation elections.

They say they have the votes to block the appropriation, and would trade them for changes to make the law "more fair and objective."

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., who cites the passage of the law as his major achievement last year, is opposed to any changes. But his hand-picked chairman of the farm labor board, Bishop Roger Mahony, says there isn't money to pay the staff between Feb. 6 and June 30 when the 1976-77 fiscal year starts.

The $3.8 million appropriation was amended into an unrelated state hospital bill by Sen. David Roberti, D-Los Angeles. The 13-member Senate Finance Committee gave it 7-5 approval after Roberti explained the governor would resist any attempts to change the law.

Farm-belt committee member Howard Way, R-Exeter, argued that changes are needed. One reason, he said, is that 97 per cent of the elections have been challenged, and small-and medium-sized growers can't afford the "endless hearings and litigation" which result.

He called for his colleagues "to bring some sanity to this situation."

Roberti said persons who seek changes are "bad sports."

"When you lose, you try to change the rules," he said.

The last "aye" vote came "reluctantly" from Sen. Alfred Alquist, D-San Jose, who said, "I'm disappointed that the administration, the supporters and the author are not willing to admit there's need for some change."

At a news conference earlier, Daryl Arnold of the Western Growers Association said, "We'd rather have no act at all than one without amendments."

Farm-belt Republicans say they have organized into blocs in both houses to cut off the money if they don't get the changes. Assemblyman Ken Maddy, R-Firebaugh, said there is substantial farm-belt Democratic support for their stand.

A grower-backed bill by Assemblyman Robert Nimmo, R-Atascadero, would allow access only when organizers couldn't talk to workers elsewhere — for example, when they live on the farm.

Nimmo's bill includes other changes which growers favor.

RICHARDSON BROOKE BAKER PERCY BROCK

Sanford drops out as Demo contender

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

As President Ford considered at least five men as possible Republican running mates, the first of 11 announced Democratic contenders for his job was dropping out of the race.

An aide to Gov. Terry Sanford said today the former North Carolina governor had decided to quit. The aide said Sanford, during a dinner party at his home Thursday night in Durham, N.C., seemed resigned to the decision.

Sanford planned to announce his withdrawal from the race at a news conference later in the day.

In a conversation with a group of New Hampshire newspaper editors, Ford said Thursday that among his possible choices for a running mate are Commerce Secretary Elliot L. Richardson and Sens. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, Howard Baker and William Brock of Tennessee and Charles H. Percy of Illinois.

Ford also said there were "some excellent governors" such as Gov. Dan Evans of Washington, Gov. Robert Ray of Iowa and Gov. Christopher Bond of Missouri.

There were "many others" who could be considered, the President added.

Percy, told of Ford's statement, said he was "flattered," adding that "no one says 'no' to a president."

"It's nice to be on the list," said Baker, "but I'm not packing any bags." He said "the time between now and Republican convention time in Kansas City is a political lifetime in this day and age."

Brooke said he was pleased to be on the list, but "I do not expect the President will ask me and I shall do nothing to encourage it."

Richardson said through a spokesman that he is confining his energy to his new Cabinet post.

On the Republican side, the White House had no comment on the results of a new Gallup poll that shows Ford leading challenger Ronald Reagan by 53 per cent to 42 per cent among GOP voters polled.

A Ford spokesman said the White House is making it official practice to avoid comment on polls, and Reagan aides also made little of the new figures.

Gallup also said that in a matchup against Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Ford got 48 per cent to 46 per cent for Humphrey, with 6 per cent undecided. Gallup said the figures represent a sampling of 1,118 registered voters.

In a similar test last month, Ford's margin over Humphrey was 51 to 39 per cent. Humphrey is not a declared candidate.

10 injured, one other missing

4th body found in silo blast

ZILWAUKEE, Mich. (AP) — Rescue workers located a fourth body early today in the wake of an explosion that ripped through a 225-foot grain storage elevator, Saginaw County officials said.

The blast on Thursday left 10 others injured. One man remained missing. Officials believe he is dead and buried under a section of one of the silo's reinforced concrete walls which collapsed in the explosion.

The cause of the blast at the grain storage complex, operated by Farm Bureau Services, was not known. However, grain dust in elevators sometimes explodes.

The force of the explosion threw pieces of concrete, some of them four feet long, as far as one quarter of a mile, observers reported.

Saginaw County sheriff's deputies said rescue workers could see the body of Roger Horney buried under debris. They listed no home town or age for the dead man.

Rescue workers said it could take the rest of the day to remove the body from the wreckage and find the missing man among the rubble.

One of the survivors of the blast was trapped for 13 hours in the wreckage before rescuers could free him.

Workers used cranes and a helicopter to help in the search for bodies and injured. One injured man was plucked to safety as he clung to the wreckage of a wall left standing after the blast. Three other workers walked away from the explosion with minor cuts.

Larry Fess, 24, of Linwood, was pinned for more than 13 hours in the debris of the wrecked structure while doctors and rescue workers tried to comfort and reassure him. He was in shock after being removed from the rubble, suffering from the cold. The temperature was just three degrees above zero about the time he was freed.

"He is buried under tons and tons of concrete," ambulance attendant John Malzahn, 24, said before Fess was freed. "All you can see is his head, his neck and one arm."

Robert A. MacFarlane, 21, said he was working in the basement underneath the concrete tower in this town just north of Saginaw and ran upstairs when the blast occurred about 11:15 a.m.

"We saw the guys lying on the ground," said MacFarlane. "One guy looked like he was dead. We took stuff off the guys lying on the ground. We helped as much as we could."

A truck driver, Jerry D. Bow, said, "I was sitting in a truck on the north side of the head house (the concrete tower).... I heard a sound.... I slammed my truck into gear, got to the west point of the building and got stuck in the snow.

"I jumped out of my truck and ran like hell.... I turned around and saw all that dust. I didn't believe what I saw. I heard some yelling from people back by the head house. I kept running."

"There were bodies all over the place and apparently they had been blown right thrugh the walls and the windows," said Saginaw County sheriff's deputy John Dankert. "There were other people who had been knocked down walking around in a daze."

The blast sent flames shooting 60 feet into the air, witnesses said.

The three dead workers, all Saginaw men, were identified as Bruce D. O'Dell, 32; George Murley, 56; and Jack R. Storm, 43.

Two of the hospitalized were listed in critical condition. They were identified as Joseph Hernandez, 47, of Buena Vista Township near Saginaw and William Wenzel, 31.

Pair uses 2 girls as prostitutes to finance 3-day trip

Two men, one a former Pomonan, were arrested Thursday afternoon in a Pomona motel and charged with using two 16-year-old runaways as prostitutes to finance a three-day drive from Seattle.

The men, Lonzo H. Nolan, 19, of Portland, Ore., and Bill James Wright, 20, of Seattle, were arrested at the Pomona Travelodge, 130 E. Holt Ave., after police went there to investigate a pistol shot fired through the floor of their room. The bullet struck a mirror in the apartment below of motel manager Helen L. Layman, 56, as she lay on a couch.

The shooting may have been an accident, the result of the pistol, a .380-caliber automatic, being dropped. But further investigation revealed that two girls with the men were runaways from Seattle and were only 16.

Officer Donald Williams reported that one of the girls told him later that she and her companion had engaged in prostitution during the trip. She said they earned $300 each and both gave all the money to Nolan and Wright. She said they obtained the money either at truck stops or as the result of hitchhiking.

Police said Nolan told them he once lived in Pomona on Denison Street.

Nolan and Wright were booked on a variety of charges including a federal count of interstate transportation of women for prostitution; contributing to the delinquency of minors; abduction for purposes of prostitution; pandering; and firing a shot into an inhabitated dwelling.

The girls were taken into custody on a count of lack of parental supervision.

An Ontario businessman carrying $2,400 in cash to pay off a loan was robbed in the parking lot of the Bank of America at Archibald Avenue and Foothill Boulevard in CUCAMONGA Thursday afternoon, West End sheriff's deputies reported.

According to deputies, Michael V. Crappa, owner of an Ontario fabric store, reported that he had just driven into the bank parking lot and stopped his car when he felt a gun at the back of his head. He said a voice told him not to turn around and to hand over the cash in packages of $50 and $100 bills.

Crappa said that he could see the robber only for a few seconds as he ran around the back of the car.

Crappa described the gunman as a black, 5 feet 7, 150 pounds wearing a watch cap, a dark jacket and Levis.

West End sheriff's deputies, assisted by a helicopter, searched yards and businesses surrounding the bank, but could find no sign of the gunman.

A 25-year-old POMONA man was arrested and booked in West End Jail Thursday night for investigation of armed robbery and resisting arrest.

Police Officer Douglas Bare said he noticed a car in the area of Sheridan Street that looked suspicious and attempted to stop it. He said the driver, later identified as Arnulfo Serrato Parramo, 25, of 929 E. Seventh St., Pomona, attempted to outrun the officer. Bare said he pulled the car over a few minutes later at 816 Sheridan St. and ordered the driver out.

Officers searching the car found a loaded .22 caliber rifle, extra ammunition, and a large amount of folding money and a bag of change under the front seat.

Parramo, who told officers, he was an illegal immigrant from Mexico, was booked in the jail and was being held pending further investigation. Officers believe that Parramo may have robbed a store in the area, but thus far no robberies involving a man of the suspect's description have been reported.

One Duarte man has been charged with robbery and his three companions with being under the influence of drugs as the result of their arrest following the holdup of a POMONA liquor store Monday night.

The robbery was at Al's Liquors, 1643 N. Garey Ave. Employe Russell Moore, 28, said one man entered, pulled an eight-inch knife and demanded money. The bandit fled to a parked car containing three other men almost two blocks away.

A Pomona man, who saw Moore with his hands up from outside the store, followed the fleeing robber and the other three men onto the San Bernardino Freeway in an attempt to get their car's license number. He followed them to the interchange with the 210 Freeway where he obtained a number which he later gave to police. That number led to the arrest of the suspects early Tuesday morning in Covina.

Wednesday, Pomona police Detective Elias Valdez obtained a felony complaint charging Daniel Ruber Rivera, 22, Duarte, with robbery. He also obtained misdemeanor complaints charging David Rivera, 23, Azusa, Ronald Manuel Barraza, 25, Covina, and John Edward Greenwalt, 21, Covina, with being under the influence of drugs. The four were scheduled for arraignment later in Pomona Municipal Court.

Life styles clouding enrollment projections

"It is true, I think, that many young people who would marry early in past years are either not getting married so soon or are postponing having children until later," he said. "There are a lot of 25-year-old men and 23-year-old women in the district who are single or divorced without children."

He said he was hopeful that current construction in the Diamond Bar area will bring in enough additional families to offset an anticipated drop in enrrollment next year.

At Bonita, Johnson said there was a "definite drop in the rate of birth over the past several years. Many young couples are postponing families." But he added the drop in enrollment was also the result of life styles in which unrelated people were living together.

He said that while those residents included some unmarried couples, there also were many cases of college youths sharing larger houses to hold down expenses.

Mark Warren, president of the Pomona Valley Board of Realtors, says he handles a large number of apartments. "Strangely, we get very few children even where children are permitted. We get more singles and more single parents than ever with perhaps one child."

As for homes, Ella Ruby, executive officer of the Board of Realtors, reports that the majority of sales are to young couples with no children, but a large percentage of new homeowners are unmarried."

"One reason for the single ownership is that now women find it easier to get financing to buy homes," she explained. "Certainly just because a home is occupied is no longer any kind of an assurance that there are or will be children. This is a mobile society. A lot of people don't want to be tied down."

A lot of school officials feel that the drop in enrollment is only temporary. They say that the majority of young people really do want children, although they may wait a little longer. Others are waiting for more stable economic conditions.

As a result, they expect the present trend to reverse itself by 1980.

And because real estate values in the valley, particularly in Pomona, are still somewhat deflated, compared with other parts of the Southland, school officials and Realtors expect vacant dwellings to be filled up during the next year or two. They also envision a pickup in the construction of new dwellings.

Educators hope the influx of additional residents will bring enough children to the valley to keep enrollments level.

Death penalty review to focus on five states

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court's decision to review the death penalty will focus on five states whose laws are considered typical of all 35 states that provide for capital punishment.

The court announced Thursday it will hear arguments March 30 and 31 on behalf of persons condemned to die for murder in Georgia, Texas, North Carolina, Florida and Louisiana. It is expected to rule by the end of June.

According to a Jan. 2 compilation by the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, 404 men and seven women were on death row in 30 of the 35 states.

The laws of the five states represent the varying legal routes which state legislatures have taken in efforts to surmount the Supreme Court's 1972 ruling striking down death penalty laws then in force.

At that time, the high court said the existing laws gave judges and juries too much power to select those who should die.

About half the new laws make the death penalty mandatory for specified crimes. North Carolina requires it for first-degree murder and sometimes for rape, Louisiana for certain categories of murder and aggravated rape.

The rest of the states leave the decision in the hands of a judge or jury but spell out guidelines usually in the form of aggravating or mitigating circumstances, which must be considered.

Both Georgia and Florida provide for separate trials on the question of guilt or innocence and the question of the penalty. In Georgia, the penalty may be decided either by the jury which originally heard the case or by another one.

In Florida, the judge decides after receiving an advisory verdict from a jury. Death is permitted for first-degree murder and for rape of a child under 11.

Texas combines the two systems, making the penalty mandatory in certain classes of murder if a jury finds that the killing was deliberate and was not a reasonable response to provocation and that the defendant is a threat to society.

Coffee shop not for long

OROVILLE (AP) — The Oroville Airport is getting a big new coffee shop — but not for long.

Workmen started construction of the coffee shop this week for use as a set in the motion picture "Alamo Charlie."

The reason they are building a new coffee shop rather than use one already in town is simple — in one scene in the new truckers' film a big truck is slated to drive straight through the building.

139 are collecting $1.09 million in legislative pensions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California legislative pensions went to 139 persons last year including two former governors, a former lawmaker now under a prison sentence, and the judge who tried Lynette Fromme.

The pensions also went to five former state legislators or officials who are now incumbent California congressmen, and one U.S. senator.

A total of $1.06 million was paid during the year, says the California Legislators' Retirement System annual report, out this week.

The recipients included 13 retired statewide officials or their widows, 124 retired legislators or their widows, and two former officers of the legislature who received benefits in the 1974-75 fiscal year.

The most prominent is former Gov. Ronald Reagan, who received $1,083.48 a month for having served eight years.

Former Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown received $2,473 a month for eight years as governor and eight years as attorney general.

Virginia Knight, wife of the late Gov. Goodwin Knight, received $1,066 a month.

The former legislator under a prison sentence is Richard Dolwig, 67, who received $1,248 for his 24 years representing San Mateo County. He was sentenced to five years in federal prison last year for real estate fraud.

The judge in the Lynette Fromme trial is Thomas MacBride of U.S. District Court in Sacramento, who gets $276 a month for having been an assemblyman from 1956 to 1960. Miss Fromme was sentenced to life for attempting to kill President Ford.

The law cuts benefits to most persons who take other state jobs, except judges. But benefits continue to those who take federal jobs. Among these are U.S. Senator Alan Cranston, a former state controller who got $784 a month, Congressman Glenn Anderson, a former lieutenant governor who got $1,473 a month, and Congressmen George Danielson, Augustus Hawkins, Harold T. Johnson and John Moss.

Among others: Former Senate President pro tem Hugh Burns, $822; former U.S. Sen. Thomas Kuchel, who served 10 years in the legislature, $1,765; former Lt. Gov. Harold "Butch" Powers, $1,929; former assemblyman and former Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, $276, and Supreme Court Justice and former attorney general Stanley Mosk, $1,842 — in addition to his salary as judge of $4,301 a month.

Carl Blechinger, executive officer of the fund, reported receipts of $1.5 million, which was $440,371 more than the benefits.

Swimming rescues decline at beaches in San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The city lifeguards who patrol San Diego's 20 miles of ocean beach and 33 miles of inlet shorelines may be working themselves out of a job.

The number of bathers exceeds eight million annually now, but fewer are being rescued. A new report says people aren't drowning but instead are learning how to avoid it by themselves.

There were 2,360 rescues by the city lifeguards in 1971 but only 1,539 last year.

There were 62,727 swimmers and sunbathers who needed warnings in 1971, but only 37,801 last year.

There were 17 citations last year for surfing, swimming and diving in wrong areas, compared with 61 a year before.

"It's just that we are using more preventative measures and giving instruction in how to avoid trouble," said lifeguard Lt. Gary Olkowski. He cited an outboard skiff in which a lifeguard cruises the surf line, keeping tab on surfers.

"We've found that tapping surfers on the shoulder is a lot more efficient than sitting on the beach trying to yell at them."

Actor on equal time regulation: can't eat!

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television actor Jerry Fogel has filed suit in federal court contending the Federal Communication Commission's equaltime rules will keep him from earning a living while he runs for Congress.

Fogel, seeking the Republican nomination to challenge Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., in the 24th district, said Wednesday he has been told by ABC, NBC, CBS and Metromedia, Inc. they won't run any shows or commercials in which he appears.

He said he was told this was to avoid the equal time provisions that say radio and television stations that permit a candidate to use air time must allow equal time to opponents.

Fogel said he wasn't arguing that rerun appearances of shows such as the Mothers-In-Law wouldn't help him, but that they are much less help than advantages enjoyed by incumbents.

He said the equal time rule has been wrongly interpreted to include all appearances, political or for entertainment, and that it should apply to campaign showings only.

The suit names the three networks and Metromedia.

Other television actors have run into the rule before.

Actor George Takei, who appeared on Star Trek, continued his campaign for the Los Angeles City Council although repeats of his shows were taken off the air. Ed Nelson, however, withdrew as a candidate for the city council in suburban San Dimas instead of losing residuals.

Also comedian Pat Paulsen challenged the rule unsuccessfully when he ran for president in 1972. He complained he was unable to understand how appearing as a comic dressed in a mouse costume would help him.

And there is also Ronald Reagan, the former California governor who has jokingly said he would ask for equal time himself during his bid for the Republican presidential nomination if anyone shows some of his old movies on television.

The largest exodus in American history began in 1776 when, besieged by the fledgling patriot army, Britisher Gen. William Howe evacuated Boston and escorted 1,100 Massachusetts Loyalists to Halifax, Nova Scotia. Throughout the Revolution, patriots drummed Loyalists out of their communities. The World Almanac reports that 100,000 men, women and children fled to Canada.

WAGONS HO — The old Oregon Trail on the Kansas plains is relived in the Kodak film "Profile '76," which will be shown Tuesday at Chaffey High School in Ontario.

Bicentennial

American life in film at Chaffey

A 90-minute color film produced by the Eastman Kodak Co. in celebration of the nation's Bicentennial will be presented Tuesday, Jan. 27, in the Chaffey High School auditorium in Ontario.

The 7:30 p.m. program is being sponsored by the Pomona and Ontario Bicentennial committees, and the Gordon Ayers Camera Shops.

The film, "Profile '76," includes spectacular scenes of American life from throughout the country including lobster trappers off the coast of Maine, handcraftsmen in the mountains of Tennessee, Polynesian dancers in Hawaii and many other subjects.

Although the program is free of charge, tickets are required. They may be obtained at the Gordon Ayers Camera Shops at 600 N. Indian Hill Blvd. and 228 Pomona Mall West in Pomona, and 117 W. Holt Ave. in Ontario, or from Star Photo at 273 S. Park Ave. in Pomona.

Wrong roles

Female parts of the English stage were always taken by boys until the Restoration. Charles II, in 1662 issued a license granting women the privilege of acting upon the stage. The first actress to perform in public was Margaret Hughes, playing Desdemona in Othello at a theater in Clare Market, London, on Dec. 8, 1660.

Collier, 'father of the freeways,' to run again

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The dean of the California Legislature, Randolph Collier, says he will run for another term in his rural northern 1st Senate District.

Collier, D-Yreka, announced his plans Wednesday in a statement which proclaimed the need to improve the state's roadways.

Collier, 73, is chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee.

Re-election might not be so easy. The State Supreme Court's 1973 reapportionment gave him large new areas.

A veteran of 37 years in the legislature, Collier is known as "the Father of the Freeways" and "the Silver Fox of the Siskiyous."

In a statement, Collier said, "As a man who has had something to do with highways in California, let me tell you...safe and efficient roads...are an absolute must for the economy of Northern California and for full employment."

He also reiterated his stand against gun control and his opposition of government condemnation to gain open lands and beach access.

Former Assemblyman Ray Johnson, who was defeated in 1974, says he will run against Collier in the district, which covers 15 counties.

Collier, a former police judge, was chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee for several years.

JACK BELLEVUE of Millbrae, recently named as Prudential Life Insurance Co.'s top life insurance salesman for 1975, spoke at a luncheon today in Montclair.

Sea creature: new building material?

Lightweight, flexible and fireproof

LA JOLLA (AP) — A tiny sea creature is being used by Scripps Institution of Oceanography to produce a new, lightweight ceramic building material with unusual strength and resiliency, a spokesman says.

The researchers headed by Dr. Gustaf Arrhenius say they first took the lace-like skeletons of microscopic sea creatures called radiolaria. They mixed various bonding agents and used several heating and drying techniques.

The potential result is a lowcost, lightweight and fireproof thermal material which is earthquake-resistant, acoustical and insulating, Arrhenius said in a recent report.

It is stronger and more elastic than present building materials, he said.

In two years of research Arrhenius said he found that "if properly developed, such ceramics would have considerable impact on the construction industry, on the development of deep-sea mining and on the nation's energy conservation program."

The material, he said, is so light and with such a low density that it will bob in water. Potentially, it can be produced competitively in large volume as a by-product of deep ocean mining, he said.

There are massive deposits of the radiolaria skeletons including one covering 490,000 square miles in the north equatorial Pacific, said Arrhenius, who estimated that deposit to have a volume of 100 trillion cubic meters and a dry weight of 200 trillion tons.

It is a sediment base for huge deposits of manganese found in most of the ocean floors throughout the world, Arrhenius said.

The Scripps researchers believe the material also may open up competitive ocean mining for such scarce minerals as manganese, copper and nickle. This possibility is their main goal, they say.

Arrhenius, a professor of oceanography, is a member of the Swedish Royal Academy of Sciences and a world-famed ocean scientist.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF INVITING BIDS for FURNISHING AND INSTALLING BUILT-UP ROOF, RESERVOIR NO. 5A

Sealed bids will be received at the Office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Pomona, California, up to the hour of 9:30 A.M., FEB. 3, 1976. The proposals will be publicly opened and read at 9:30 A.M. of the same date, at the office of Water Department Manager, for the furnishing of all equipment, labor, materials and supplies, for the construction of a mineral surfaced built-up roof on a nailable wood structural deck, Reservoir No. 5A, located at 460 East La Verne Avenue, in the City of Pomona, California, all in accordance with Specification No. 193. The City will conduct an inspection of the reservoir for prospective bidders at 10:00 A.M. on JAN. 27, 1976. The point of assembly for the inspection tour will be at the Reservoir site.

Detailed specifications and all contract documents, may be obtained in the Office of the City of Pomona Water Department Manager, 505 South Garey Avenue, Pomona, California, at no charge.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond, in the amount of ten percent (10%) of the estimated aggregate amount of the bid as a guarantee that the bidder, if an award is made to him, in accordance with the terms of his proposal, will promptly execute a contract in the required form, secure workmen's compensation insurance and furnish satisfactory bonds; one for the faithful performance of the contract and one for the payment of claims of materialmen and laborers thereunder. Said faithful performance bond and labor and material bond, each, shall be in the sum of not less than one hundred percent (100%) of the estimated aggregate amount of the payments to be made under the contract, computed on the basis of the prices stated in the bidding sheets.

Not less than the general prevailing rate of per diem wages so adopted by the Council of the City of Pomona by its Resolution No. 75-5 (a copy of which is on file in the Office of the City Clerk, and a copy of which the contractor, if awarded the contract, must post at the job site) shall be paid any workman needed to execute this agreement, including workmen employed by the contractor or any subcontractor. Changes, if any, to such general prevailing rate of per diem wages since the adoption of said resolution are as follows:

Classification	Rate Per Hour

The City Council reserves the right after opening bids to reject all bids, to waive any irregularity in a bid, and when an award is made by the City Council, it will be made to the lowest responsible bidder. This notice is given by order of the City Council, City of Pomona, California.

JOHN VAN de KAMP

D.A. to speak in valley

John Van De Kamp, Los Angeles County district attorney will address the annual banquet of Le Roy Boys' Home at 7 p.m. next Wednesday.

He will discuss the juvenile justice system with members of the board of directors. Installation of board members for 1976 will precede the talk.

Van de Kamp was appointed district attorney by the Board of Supervisors last October to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Joseph Busch.

2 retiring school employes honored

Two employes of the Claremont School District have been honored for their service.

Board President Ernest Taylor Monday night presented citations to Mrs. Nettie Kirby, purchasing clerk, and to Jesus Chavez, district groundsman, both retiring this month.

Taylor said that Mrs. Kirby had "endured the rigors of fiscal changes" in the district since she joined the district in November 1962 as an hourly employe, and was assigned two months later as a clerk typist. The following September she became an account clerk, and in September 1967 was assigned as purchasing clerk.

She developed district purchasing systems, organized files and catalogues of innumerable vendors and assisted with the complicated procedure of buying furniture for each new school.

Taylor said that he hoped that Chavez, with the district since August 1965, would come back to work as a substitute. He reached mandatory retirement age Jan. 21.

Taylor said that as evidence of Chavez's interest in increasing his skill as groundsman, Chavez attended a county gardening course. Taylor added that Chavez had "a lot of rapport with the kids at El Roble."

State proposes a policy to govern sterilizations

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California health officials say men or women about to be sterilized should be fully informed of the effects, and clearly give their consent.

This is the intent of 13 pages of guidelines proposed by the state Health Department this week.

Included would be a 72-hour wait between written consent and sterilization.

The guidelines were written to meet a new state law prompted by reports from other states saying welfare recipients have been sterilized against their will or without their knowledge.

The proposal is to be considered next week by the state Health Facilities Authority.

Under the guidelines, a patient would have to be told that he or she would lose no welfare benefits by refusing sterilization.

Alternative forms of birth control would also have to be explained.

Happy over 'new look'

VIENNA (AP) — The Viennese enjoyed a happy surprise in December when the city's streetcars suddenly blossomed out once more in the traditional red and white, replacing the former blanket of advertisements.

The return to the "old look" was made after a number of residents appealed to the city administration, according to the Press and Information Service of the Austrian capital.

Americans resenting spending

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the late 1960s, when the notion still existed that we could afford almost anything conceived, Americans seems to have been developing a strong distaste for spending beyond their means.

President Ford recognizes the feeling and he encourages it too, as his messages this week indicate.

The feeling is reinforced by what is perceived to be the consequences of overspending. President Lyndon B. Johnson's guns and butter philosophy, which led to a $25 billion deficit in 1968, is widely felt to be the taroot of today's inflation.

Evidence of discomfort about spending is found also in the fate of state and local bond issues, which increasingly have been voted down in the 1970s. Voters last year said no to 93 per cent of the value of all proposals.

Such overwhelming evidence cannot be ignored. Ford has made fiscal conservatism his goal. More liberally inclined officials have been forced to accept conservative attitudes, at least in spending.

Any inclination to forget the consequences of overspending is overcome by the continuing financial distress of New York City, and the realization that the same fate could befall other cities too.

Adding to the doubts about government spending are concerns about its effectiveness. If such large sums are spent on aid to education, why should reading scores be low? If welfare is the answer to poverty, why so many poor?

Consumer surveyors report many Americans have projected their own personal philosophies and experiences onto the affairs of the nation. Individuals know they cannot spend more than they earn year after year without going bankrupt.

In recent years, many young Americans have come to realize for the first time that living standards can fall as well as rise. They had not known the 1930s. To them, rising living standards was the story of America.

Making reality work may be difficult. While assuring us his budget is one of restraint, the President nevertheless expects a 1977 deficit of $43 billion. Congress seems willing to tolerate an even larger one.

Deficit spending will continue for many reasons, political, economic and military.

While there is sentiment for biting the bullet — that is, for cutting spending until it hurts — there seems to be support also for buying bullets for defense. And so, Ford defends his defense budget as "essential growth."

Nobody disagrees that it is probably impossible to sharply reduce some social welfare programs while an 8 per cent-plus jobless rate prevails. Besides, too abrupt an end to spending is, in itself, economically dangerous.

The bald truth is that deficits cannot be eliminated in months or even years without great social and economic damage. Limiting spending to the size of tax revenues would mean such a sudden decline in economic activity as to qualify as a depression.

It will still take many months for the private economy to regain enough strength to take on the problems, to create the jobs, to support incomes. And so, the government is obligated to take on the job.

Economic change demands time, even if political considerations seem to dictate speed. In 1976, political and economic pressures conflict sharply, within parties and between parties, adding another dimension to the November elections.

A search for a daughter—there's still hope

An American-Vietnamese couple living in Pomona are worried but still hopeful as they continue efforts to locate a 6-year-old daughter left in Saigon with grandparents last April.

The child is an American citizen. She was born Aug. 5, 1969 in St. Paul Hospital in Saigon to a U.S. serviceman, Dennis Dean Coit, and his wife Van. Her American name is Mary Coit. Her Vietnamese name is Dinh Thi Hong Hanh.

"Since last April I have not been able to contact my parents," said Mrs. Coit. "Now I am worried about the safety of my daughter. I am afraid the Viet Cong may have killed her.

"I want her here with me. I want my parents to come here, too."

The Coits were married in Saigon when Coit was in the Army. After his service, he stayed in Vietnam and did construction work.

He brought Van and a second daughter, Michelle, now 4, to California for Christmas in 1974. In January of 1975, Mrs. Coit returned to Vietnam to get Mary. She found her father, she said, but her mother and Mary had disappeared and they could not be found.

Mrs. Coit stayed in Saigon until she was evacuated April 21. She went to the Philippine Islands, then to San Francisco where she made contact with Coit. He instructed her to fly to Ontario International Airport. He met her there April 28.

They now live at 3122 N. Garey Ave. Their telephone number is 593-9939. Coilt worked for Industrial Lighting Products in Upland. A third daughter, Jacqueline, is almost 10 months old.

Mrs. Coit said her parents had copies of Mary's birth certificate and passport but, from fear, may have destroyed them.

Mrs. Coit wept as she talked of her daughter and her parents.

"I am their only daughter," she said. "They had only me. When I married they did not want me to leave. When Mary was born my mother loved her. Often I left her with my mother. Now I worry for her. I do not know where she is."

Mrs. Coit's father is Dinh Van Luc, 62. Her mother is Bui Thi Ty, 59. Their last known address was 60/1 Tran Binh Trong, Gia Dinh, Ban Quan Quan, Ho Chi Minh, Saigon, Vietnam.

Her mother's sister is Di Ba Tuat. She lives in Ba Xuyen Soc Trang, about 280 miles from Saigon. A daughter-in-law, Chi Ban Mung, lives next door to Di Ba Tuat.

Mrs. Coit feels that if her mother is not in Saigon she may be with her sister.

She can think of no other place her mother could be living.

"I do need to know where they are. I need to know that Mary is alright," she said.

Mrs. Coit has a Vietnamese friend living here who, after four months, was able to contact her parents in Saigon. That was encouraging to Mrs. Coit, but the fact that her letters and telegrams are either returned or unanswered causes her "great worry."

Cal Poly's Kramer plans Latin America excursion

Cal Poly Pomona President Robert C. Kramer plans to spend the next five months on a research program in Latin America under the auspices of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

Pending final approval for a leave of absence without pay by the California State University and Colleges trustees at their Wednesday meeting, Kramer and his family are planning to depart on Feb. 2.

The CSUC trustees also will designate an administrator to assume the responsibilities of the president during his absence.

The Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., requested Kramer to conduct a study of agricultural and food and nutrition programs in Latin America.

The plans call for Kramer to evaluate various projects in Colombia, Brazil, Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala and Nicaragua and to recommend programs which the foundation could assist in the decade ahead.

According to Russell G. Mawby, president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, the foundation will probably allocate between $30 and $35 million for programs in agriculture, health and education in Latin America in the next 10 years.

The assessments which Kramer is expected to make will serve as guidelines for these investment allocations.

Before leaving for Cali, Colombia, where he will be based, Kramer will visit the universities of Nebraska and Michigan State, the Ford and Rockefeller foundations in New York City and government agencies in Washington,, D.C., where he will consult with officials involved with related projects in the South and Central America countries.

BICENTENNIAL GREETINGS

The 470 children at Armstrong Elementary School in Diamond Bar this week released red, white and blue helium-filled balloons to launch their observance of the Bicentennial. Principal Wesley D. Rood said each balloon contained a card giving the student's name, the name of the school, space for the finder to note where it landed, and a request that it be returned. "We're hoping to get responses from all over," said Rood.

'Prejudiced, bigoted'

Teacher-employe group assails board president

By PHYLLIS CANNON
PB Staff Writer

A 22-member employe-teacher group at Marshall Junior High School in Pomona has publicly accused school board President Don Donnelly of being "admittedly prejudiced" and a "bigot."

"I do not deny that I said I was prejudiced," Donnelly answered when informed of the charge. "But they said I'm a bigot and I deny that categorically. I am not.

"I did say I was prejudiced and I am, and I deny anyone to say he is not. I'm reminded of a Biblical saying, 'Let he who is without sin cast the first stone.' "

The Marshall group made its charge in a letter signed by the 22 individuals, including 11 teachers, in which they reported on meetings with Donnelly held Dec. 16 and Jan. 14 in the Education Center.

Copies of the letter were hand delivered to the Education Center for board members Thursday.

In a group meeting Thursday the employes told a Progress Bulletin reporter they had gone to the Education Center Dec. 16 after a school board meeting to meet with Donnelly.

They said they wanted to draw attention to Principal Jack Housen's values at the school because his leadership was essential to the behavioral tone on the campus.

They wanted to counter unfavorable information they said others at Marshall had related about Housen to school board members and the administration of the district.

They stated in their letter; "Mr. Donnelly asked a question of a member of the Marshall faculty regarding the Marshall administrator, 'How do you get along with him?' The faculty member replied 'Fine.'

"Donnelly then said, 'Maybe it's because of your color' and the response was, 'Mr. Donnelly, I do not deal with color, I deal with kind.' "

The letter also stated that at a meeting in the office of acting Supt. Sidney Moses on Jan. 14 Donnelly "angrily stated to the group 'I am prejudiced . . . who isn't?'

"This outburst was in response to requests for clarification of previous statements made by Mr. Donnelly regarding his prejudices."

The letter charges:

"A statement of this magnitude affects the total community and suggests . . . How can a person who has the responsibility of providing quality education for ALL students accomplish it and remain prejudiced?

"Is this the type of leadership Pomona needs, wants or will tolerate for its children? How long will the citizenry permit bigots to openly exploit them and their children for personal political ambitions?"

Donnelly responded:

"We are doing too many good things in this community and are on the threshold of real success to put any value to such negative statements as this."

"My voting record shows categorically where I have tried desperately hard to make decisions in the best interests of ALL children in this community.

"It is these attempts (the letter) to degrade somebody that has dedicated his everyday life to improving public schools of Pomona for all its people that I disagree with.

"If these people at Marshall are so concerned about having a school that is helping all the children why is it they are so interested in building an iron curtain of forces, one opposed to the other, instead of trying to find ways to get together and have a cohesive staff with a sole interest of helping young people learn?"

"I ask, where are your priorities?"

The letter is signed by 11 Marshal teachers, seven instructional aides two secretaries, the head custodian and one mother.

The teachers are Alvin P. Henry Herbert M. Pittman, Colin D. Parrish, Dorothy A. Goldsmith, Suzanne H. Beers, Patrick L. Wright, Jill H Fulton, Bob Wong, Gwendolyn J Johnson, Michael E. Daniels and Freddie L. Jackson.

The aides are Zora M. McGuire Betty L. Williams, Yvonne Pollard Marion H. Bridges, Dorothy L Adams and Adahna C. Cobb.

Virginia M. Wright and Esther L Horner are the secretaries. Leonard L. Lewis is the head custodian. Mrs Doris M. Draffen is a parent whose name appears on the letter.

OPARC outlines renovation plans

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

Plans for a $100,000 renovation of its Diversified Industries and accreditation of its day school this year were revealed by the Ontario-Pomona Association for Retarded Citizens this week.

Speaking at the association's annual dinner at The Arbor, Upland, President George S. Underhill outlined accomplishments of the past year and plans for the future.

"Of the 94 adults being trained at Diversified Industries in Ontario by OPARC this year, nine were able to continue on to advanced vocational training and one entered the business world," Underhill said.

"Last year, a new roof was added at the plant as the first part of the renovation which will start soon. Funds are from a matching grant program of the federal government and from the OPARC auxiliary."

He said the improvements will include remodeling and expansion of the eating, work, rest and recreation area of Diversified Industries, 534 W. Brooks St., Ontario.

The purpose of OPARC is to enrich the lives of those citizens who suffer from physical, mental or emotional disabilities, said Underhill.

He attested to the success of the Day School operated in Montclair by the association by saying that of the 76 youngsters in its program, three were admitted to public schools this year.

Underhill explained the board of directors' newly inaugurated program which helps underwrite the expenses of staff members who continue their professional education.

He said that a high percentage of the staff has continued educational training at Chaffey College, Cal Poly Pomona, UCLA, Pacific State Hospital and other centers.

Plans for the future include even more parent involvement in the Day School and other programs of the association, according to Underhill.

"Accreditation is ahead of us this year," Underhill said. "But I am confident that we will meet the state's criteria for educational excellence with no difficulty."

Underhill was re-elected president of OPARC for 1976. Others elected to serve as officers at the annual meeting were John McCallum, vice president; Naomi Brooker, secretary; and Robert Kurtz, treasurer.

Howard Snider, former mayor of Ontario and former OPARC president, was installing officer.

Elected as new board members were Harry Haskel, Robert Kurtz and Robert Schauer.

Golden medallions honoring 10 years of service were presented to Mrs. Donna Gerard, a teacher, and Mrs. Mary Body, executive director of the association. Mrs. Boyd has been on the staff since May 14, 1962, but this is the first time the medallions have been awarded.

Recall election costly, divisive

Closing of a public school for whatever reason can be a very emotional experience. For school board members, staff, parents, students, the whole community.

We can remember distinctly the public uproar that greeted the announcement a few years ago that the Pomona School Board was considering consolidating elementary school plants because of shrinking enrollments.

So it is not surprising that a good number of Claremonters reacted similarly when the Claremont School Board by a 3-2 vote decided to close Sycamore School for elementary school purposes next fall.

It was not an easy decision for the school board and it did not come by surprise either. More than a year ago the Claremont schools superintendent had warned that declining enrollment and financial problems would likely force the closure of at least one school.

A community task force subsequently named by the board studied the situation, rated the various schools and Sycamore was at the bottom of the list.

A group of parents who are supporting a move to remove from office the three board members who voted to close Sycamore School might consider these factors:

1. If a recall movement should go forward, the possibility of an early special election is not favorable at this time because of the pressure on the office of the registrar of voters in connection with running the June primary election. It is possible that a recall election could not be scheduled until fall.

2. When school reopens in the fall the school district budget will have been adopted, employes hired and assigned, and any changes at that point will not only be expensive, but disruptive to the educational system as well.

3. A recall election would cost the taxpayers at least $20,000, almost half the amount that the closing of Sycamore School will save.

4. There is a regular school board election coming up in March next year when three seats will be determined.

We are all for the democratic process and a recall election is certainly part of that process. But, if Claremont voters want to make a change in the present majority of the school board they will have ample opportunity to do it in the spring of 1977 without, in the meantime, putting the community through an expensive and divisive recall election.

Know your rock

Those lucky people who found themselves the proud owners of a pet rock on Christmas morning may want to know more about the lovable things that have won their hearts with such tricks as rolling down a hill or playing dead.

Because we are as slaphappy as anybody else from the usual run of the news, we take this opportunity to pass along the announcement that geologists with the National Water Well Association will prepare a detailed genealogy for any pet rock sent to them.

Some pet rocks have been estimated to be more than two billion years old, says Dr. Jay Lehr, executive director of the association. "Many began as a molten mass hardening deep below the earth's surface. Millions of years later they were subjected to the forces of impact between colliding continents, contorted and compressed, and finally thrust thousands of feet above sea level.

"Tormented by millions of years of exposure to wind, rain, snow and heat, many of our poor little friends were taken from their original homes and carried away by massive glaciers. Finally, resting along a stream or on a beach or on the surface of a desert, these rocks were collected and sold to warm, friendly people who have given them a loving environment in which to spend the remaining millenia of their existence."

So, pet rock owners, send your rock, along with $1 for return postage and handling, to the Geological Division, National Water Well Association, 500 West Wilson Bridge Road, Worthington, Ohio 43085.

Besides a glowing history of your pet rock, the NWWA will send you back a vial of "precious underground water, similar to that which for millions of years carressed and gave life-giving moisture to your pet before it ever saw the light of day."

Instructions for proper use will, of course, be included.

Dear Editor:

Does anyone want to help me found the S.L.A.G.H. This, if you are not informed, is the Society for Left Turn Arrows at Garey Avenue and Holt Boulevard. You will notice the initial letters of the name form a clever acronym for the inarticulate cry of sheer frustrated rage that usually escapes the lips of anyone trying to negotiate the intricate mess that is this corner during any rush period. Especially when he, having already missed one green light is denied a second by some pickup or sports car which first holds him up, brings him to a complete stop then turns illegally leaving him sitting there.

The present city administrator obviously is not going to reduce crime. Bring about full employment. Or cut taxes. Therefore they might like to be remembered as those who brought about this much needed civic improvement. — Philip A. Hastings, Pomona

Tail wag the dog?

Dear Editor:

The ridiculous part of the current Claremont school board issue is that so few people are trying to dictate to the vast majority.

The school board was elected by all the voters to represent the entire district, not just one special interest group.

Are we going to let the tail wag the dog? — Joyce E. Sokolowski, Claremont

Chou our enemy

Dear Editor:

I was very disappointed with your editorial of Jan. 16 eulogizing Chou En-lai. Some of our government leaders have given statements to the press about Chou En-lai and his many attributes. This, I suppose, can be considered international courtesy.

There is, however, no very good excuse for your editorial. It is simply another example of how the news media is twisting and bending the truth these days in an effort to blind people as to what is actually going on.

Such double talk as this, regardless of where it originates, is what lost the Korean war for us, and lost that fiasco in Vietnam. You seem to intimate in the editorial that Chou En-lai was somehow helping to protect us from Russian domination. As long as our leaders keep on with their treasonous policies and actions I can't see that it makes much difference whether Russia or China dominates us. We are ripe for the picking.

The fact that Chou En-lai was very astute and could use nicely chosen words to make us soft and pliable does not change the fact that he was our enemy.

The news media has such a wonderful opportunity to stress American patriotism in this, our bicentennial year but instead they seem to be under the influence of some powerful group which is giving the orders. I thank God there are a few good conservative papers which tell us more of the truth. — Thomas H. Locke, La Verne

Jobs-energy

Dear Editor:

I was happy to see the story from Southern California Edison on the power production of the San Onofre nuclear plant in Sunday's Progress-Bulletin.

Imagine, 3.2 billion kilowatt hours of electricity. And they plan to build two more. Maybe next year they will tell us how much plutonium and other nuclear waste they produce as well.

We need nuclear power in this country for jobs and energy. Not too many people realize what a benefit nuclear power could prove in creating jobs, certainly police employment will increase. We must keep fissionable plutonium safe from terrorists. Higher levels of radiation in the environment will surely require more cancer researchers.

Mutations and birth defects should provide work for geneticists and other biologists. A melt down in a uranium reactor, leaks from nuclear wastes in storage, or even an explosion of a fast breeder plutonium reactor — we could reduce unemployment overnight.

Of course nuclear technology is risky. Maybe leaving deadly nuclear waste for future generations is dangerous. But what did future generations ever do for us?

Remember jobs-energy. — Craig Enberg, La Verne

Politics of the energy bill

WASHINGTON — Energy Czar Frank Zarb would have followed Labor Secretary John Dunlop out of the government if President Ford had vetoed the energy bill as he did the common situs labor bill.

Sources close to Zarb say he was ready to resign, effective in April, if he had been hit with a veto. For the doughty little ex-broker had spent months hammering out a bill which sets a new national oil policy.

Zarb worked 16-hour days to patch together a compromise. Even when his duties took him out of town, he set up extra phones in his hotel rooms and kept burning the wires to Capitol Hill.

The compromise bill satisfied no one, least of all the oil companies, but it was the best that could clear Congress. The oil barons made a final, powerful effort to pressure President Ford into vetoing the bill.

The showdown came on November 13 behind closed White House doors. The President called in top congressional Republicans to hear Zarb present his arguments against a veto.

He and his deputies, John Hill and Eric Zausner, ran into a hailstorm of opposition from conservative Republicans, some of them primed with arguments by the oil companies.

Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, made a vitriolic personal attack upon Hill, charging that he had undercut conservative Republican leaders on oil policy. More politely, Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., made the same point.

The President, who had backed Zarb, was shaken by the opposition. By the end of the two-hour meeting, the conservatives were convinced the measure would be vetoed.

But the indefatigable Zarb didn't give up. He inveigled a ride on Air Force One for the first lap of the President's trip to China. All the way to Alaska, Zarb lobbied the President.

After Ford's return, Zarb kept it up until the President signed the bill in December 22.

Footnote: Zarb's closest friends confirmed that a veto would have brought his resignation. Zarb himself would tell us only: "The battle is over. I don't want to talk about it."

POISONED FIELDS: The field workers, who helped make America the best fed nation in history, are themselves often undernourished. Now there is evidence that they are also being poisoned by pesticides.

From California to Florida, crop sprays are bringing sickness and death to stoop laborers.

This had led Dr. Joseph Swartz, a biophysicist doing research for the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in California, to call field work "one of the most hazardous occupations." His conclusion is based on "time lost to occupational illnesses."

Poor living conditions and health hazards have combined to give the farm worker an average life span of only 49 years — 21 years less than the national average.

Yet the EPA, which is supposed to be the nation's environmental watchdog, has failed to protect workers from the menace of sprayed fields. Here are the shocking facts:

— The National Farmworkers Information Clearing House (NFIC) has prepared a survey to determine the number of deaths and illnesses from exposure to pesticides. Yet EPA has not sent this vital health survey to 125 migrant health clinics.

— Under pressure from the growers, EPA also quashed an earlier NFIC project, the pesticide hotline, which would have provided a toll-free telephone number for field hands to report poisoning incidents.

— EPA has made only a token effort to enforce EPA regulations on the farm. Many farmers desregard the regulations and spray their crops with reckless abandon. Yet EPA has assigned only an average of one inspector per state to protect the public from poisoned fields. Even those farmers caught violating EPA's pesticide regulations risk no more than a warning for a first offense.

— For that matter, the EPA doesn't have adequate facilities to determine whether the pesticides it certifies for commercial use are actually safe. Instead, the agency relies almost entirely on the dubious data provided by the pesticide manufacturers.

One reason for EPA's failure to control pesticides is the power of the agribusiness lobby, which is more interested in protecting crops than workers.

The lobby has an extraordinary influence over the House Agriculture Committee, particularly its 76-year-old vice chairman, Rep. W.R. Poage. The old man grew up on a ranch in Throckmorton County, Tex., and he is more simpatico with big ranchers than small stoop laborers.

The House Agriculture Committee has brought enough quiet pressure to bear on EPA, meanwhile, to prevent enforcement of the pesticide regulations.

The effect can be measured in stark human terms. Consider these reports, for example, from Florida.

— Last November ten field hands, three of them women, were hospitalized with severe nausea, skin rashes and dizziness after going into a sprayed tomato field.

— A farm worker at Del Ray, Fla., entered a tomato field after it had been sprayed with four different toxic pesticides. Thereafter, he developed a skin rash resembling leprosy and has been unable to return to work.

— In 1973, a woman stoop laborer left a field which had just been sprayed. She complained of nausea and shortness of breath. Thirty minutes later, she died.

Footnote: An EPA spokesman told us his agency lacked facilities to doublecheck adequately the pesticide industry's data. The EPA, he said, may release the NFIC survey in the future. The spokesman conceded that the pesticide hotline had been cancelled and that less than one inspector per state was assigned to check farm poisonings.

Just in jest

Transportation problems! Crime in the street! An unbalanced city budget! Forget about them! To flush or not to flush, that is the question which now confronts our omnipotent City Fathers. And once again, as is usually the case, there is no unanimity of thought in city government circles on this all important problem.

One faction contends that since the average Pomona Valley resident uses 100 gallons of water a day (forty percent of his entire daily water consumption) to flush the toilet, 12 million gallons of water a day could be saved by cutting down the size of toilet tanks.

Then there is another school of thought which favors every other time flushing, which would affect the same amount of water conservation and at the same time make costly plumbing fixture installations unnecessary. — Solomon in all his glory never had to face up to such a weighty decision. All he had to do to solve his problem was to threaten to cut the baby in half. Even if we had a modern Chic Sale on the City Council, any building program he might suggest would be certain to meet with the undying opposition of our environmentalists.

For sanitation today is not the simple matter it was in earlier times. Once a star and crescent thing of beauty, the backyard three-holer is today a dirty word. So truly these are days which try councilmen's souls. No matter how they vote a lot of folks are going to say their decision stinks.

Opinion let troops down

WASHINGTON — At the height of the Vietnam War, Philip Potter, Washington bureau chief for the Baltimore Sun and a man with a distinguished record as a war correspondent in Indochina and Korea, let fly at a small group of reporters whooping it up for the Viet Cong.

"None of you know what you're talking about," he said. When they began quoting news stories from the Vietnam front, Potter laid them low. "I've been there and I know what's going on. The reporters in Saigon sit at a bar interviewing each other or they run around talking to pro-Hanoi people."

Then he systematically analyzed the situation to show that the South Vietnamese and American forces were doing very well. I recall how he cited the Tet offensive as an instance in which the Communists had suffered a shattering defeat, though the media had distorted and suppressed facts to make it look like a great victory for Hanoi.

Phil Potter was correct in his analysis — and as we know today, the will to win in Vietnam was destroyed by slanted reporting on the Tet offensive. The Communists were almost broken militarily by their all-out attempt to win, but they scored a tremendous psychological victory, courtesy of the media, from which the United States never recovered. To this day, millions of Americans believe that Hanoi was the victor in the Tet offensive.

When the true history of Vietnam is written, it will be seen that the war was lost not because of any inadequacies on the part of the American military and not because of the much-touted corruption of the South Vietnamese, but because American thinking and morale were eroded by the perverse reporting on the fighting and the issues.

Faced by the media barrage, one official after another ran for cover, bowing to "popular" sentiment — and the military was never given a chance to carry out its mission in Indochina. But the facts are there, and with the passage of time, the American people may learn the truth.

For those who are more interested in facts than in propaganda, there is a new book — "A Soldier Reports" by Gen. William C. Westmoreland (Doubleday, N.Y.)

He gives a detailed and punctiliously accurate account of what went on in Vietnam, what he had to cope with from the press and the politicians, and how we lost a war which was already won simply because a manipulated public opinion let our troops down.

It is a book which every American should read in order to learn how in today's world the termite is more powerful than the soldier, and how the twisted word can bring tragedy to a great nation. Those who pushed us into defeat are already at their typewriters attempting to deny what Westmoreland has written. If they succeed, it will be because Americans don't care.

Vietnam is waved like a bloody rag whenever this country proposes to act with decision. The false memory of Vietnam was invoked when the United States brought its influence to bear in the Middle East.

Freshmen congressmen who couldn't find Angola on the map take to the boob tube to warn us that if we help the embattled majority of that country against Soviet-armed forces, we will be inviting "another Vietnam."

In the final analysis, Americans will have to decide whether they are more concerned over the national interest than they are impressed by the rampaging kids who trashed their universities to show their superior intelligence. A book like Westmoreland's can do much to restore our sanity and our sense of values.

Pomona Police Relief Association for real

Every year I am contacted by telephone and asked to purchase a ticket for the Pomona Police Officers' Relief Association benefit show.

I have always assumed that the proceeds went to the relief association.

I have heard recently that only one per cent, if any, reaches the association and that there may not even be an association.

Please let your readers know if this annual appeal is legitimate and just how much of the money, if any, goes to the relief association. — B.T., Pomona

Yes, there is a Pomona Police Officers' Relief Association.

Rick Shaurette, ex-officio president of same, explains that the amount of money received by the association is dependent on a contract negotiated with a production company that arranges, hires, produces and directs the show.

This type of activity is always controversial because it lends to many suspicions like the one you expressed in your letter, he said.

Telephone sales tactics are, at times, troublesome for the association, he said, and have to be monitored closely to prevent misrepresentations "which unfortunately have occurred."

Money received from the show is dispersed by the production company.

"To be perfectly honest," Shaurette said, "I do not know what percent we receive of the gross.

"I do not believe, however, that the show grosses $1.3 million annually. Our contract this year was $13,000 to be paid to the police association.

"We did receive that amount and sponsored the following activities: three Little League teams, three soccer teams, one Pop Warner team, one softball team, the Police Association weightlifting team (one member competed in the Olympics in England), a pistol team, the south safety run, an Explorer Post and several local organizations and charities."

Total cost of these activities amounted to $10,950 last year, according to Shaurette.

He said the association's only other sources of income were the Winternationals and membership dues. The Winternationals were started several years ago by the Pomona Police Department in an effort to curb gang activity in Pomona.

Money received which does not go to activities described above is used for administrative costs and officer activities and programs, Shaurette said.

His advice to anyone who receives a call and is not interested in the show is to say "No."

"If you do buy a ticket, use it," he said. "The show is usually pretty good."

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone extremely fond of you is likely to support your position against all odds today. Try to be equally loyal to her.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You feel very strongly about your opinions today. You are probably right. Since you will prevail, be compassionate with others.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't be intimidated by tasks that may have seemed insurmountable in the past. Your reservoir of strength makes you equal to them today.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be especially solicitous of those under your wing today. They'll be grateful. You'll be a better person because of it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Once you sense your basic inner strength, you'll be able to handle any situation, even though others may think you're a pushover.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You require mental challenge to satisfy your ego today. Unless you're intellectually fulfilled, you won't relax.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Reason must not give way to emotion today in material affairs. You understand balance better than anyone. Remember this.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) You're apt to believe you should be leading the parade today, and why shouldn't you? Those in front are those who are confident of their abilities.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Quiet places will be to your liking today. Everyone needs a respite at times. Solitude now beckons to you.

You will be much more inclined to assert yourself this coming year. Where you have been reticent in the past you will now take charge — and you should.

Ann Landers

Of husbands leaving nothing

Dear Ann Landers: I am outraged by the statement one hears so often about widows. It goes like this: "She went through everything he left her in two years."

My husband died 18 months ago. From 1932 to 1972 he made from $45,000 to $60,000 a year. He had an international reputation and was decorated by a foreign monarch.

We were married for 39 years and had 11 children. They all graduated from college. Several went on to get doctorates. Not one of the 11 worked his way through.

I was wife, mother, lover, hostess, social secretary, buffer, nurse, chauffeur, and general aide-de-camp.

What did my husband leave me? Less than $2,000 in E Bonds, $20,000 in life insurance and a house with a mortgage that has 18 years to go. With inflation, the house, notes and insurance payments, where am I?

The children are wonderful. They all help. But I deeply resent the fact that after 39 years of devotion, I NEED help. So the next time someone makes the statement about a widow "not managing," please ask if her husband left anything to manage. — Bitter

Dear Bitter: Too bad that in addition to being wife, mother, lover, social secretary and general aide-de-camp, you didn't take on one more role — estate planner.

I hope your letter will serve as a warning to others. Statistics tell us that most wives outlive their husbands. Every wife who reads this column should ask that man of hers what he has done to protect her, if he should die suddenly. It's not a pleasant subject, but the wife who refuses to face reality pays the price.

Dear Ann Landers: Please warn parents to watch carefully where their children go and with whom. Four years ago (I was a boy of 12) I spent a week with an older friend. He turned out to be a homosexual. Sex was new to me and I was easy to seduce. Later my friend married and gave up homosexuality, but that experience made a tremendous impact on my life.

Now I can't look at a boy without having unwanted thoughts. In addition to this problem, my secret desires have ruined my social life with girls. If I try to show affection to a girl, my hands sweat and I shake all over. When I'm 18, if I haven't gone crazy hating myself, I intend to get therapy.

I hope someone will be helped by this letter, Ann. If I had been warned early in life, maybe I wouldn't be going through this hell. — Miserable In Florida

Dear Miserable: Why wait until you are 18? The sooner you get help the better your chances. I urge you to check your local Mental Health Assn. if your family can't afford a private therapist. One thing you will learn in therapy is that an isolated experience at the age of 12 will not turn a normal boy into a homosexual. Good luck.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a divorcee with two children. I must work to supplement the support check.

When I accept a dinner (or weekend) invitation from a gentleman, who pays the sitter? Those weekend dates can be very expensive. — Violet Eye

Dear Vy: They sure can, honey, but that's another letter.

Your children are YOU'R responsibility. Unless the gentleman insists on paying the sitter, pay the tab yourself.

What are the do's and don'ts of teaching your child about the birds and the bees? Let Ann Lander's new booklet, "How, What, and When to Tell Your Child About Sex," give you the ground rules. For your copy send 50 cents in coin, along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Joe Firman

Let's swash a few buckles

Having looked over, but not actually seen, most of the films that have qualified for the Academy Awards, I am forced to the conclusion that the movie industry has only two alternatives — a return to romance or eventual ruin. If Hollywood continues on its present course, it will soon be a disaster movie itself.

I have already voted for the Oscars this year. (I don't wait for "nominations." No one's going to buy MY vote!) There is no Best Picture this year — nothing screened so far deserves to be called "the best." So I have cast my ballot for an engaging little comedy of last year — "The Stink."

My other votes in the popular categories are Most People Killed in a Film: "Earthquake." Largest Zeppelin: "The Hindenburg." Most Teeth: "Jaws." Most Jaws: "Teeth."

When I say that the salvation of the cinema industry lies in a return to romance, I do not mean Hollywood's idea of romance, which is a naked man climbing in bed with a nude woman. (Nice switch, that.)

What I mean by romance, and what I think millions of potential movie goers are yearning for, is the big, colorful, swashbuckling films of yesteryear, the costume dramas, all flashing swords and heaving bosoms. Remember Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad"? Errol Flynn in "Rake of the Wed Rich"? Tyrone Power in "Night Must Fall"? Remember bold buccaneers and treacherous courtiers and gallant galleons, all sails bent on to catch the elusive pirate captain?

Whatever happened to castles? What ever happened to the Foreign Legion? What ever happened to heaving bosoms?

Romance in sinema today is getting mugged while committing rape. The average movie spurts more blood than the Red Cross. And that's just the comedies. "The Killer Elite," "The Happy Hooker," "Linda Lovelace for President," "Cleopatra Jones and the Casino of Gold" — not a sword in the lot. With the men who know box office best its bullets, three to one.

One interesting trend in movies in 1975 is the awakened interest in wildlife and the ecology — "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," "The Wind and the Lion," "The Black Bird," "Three Days of the Condor," "Rhinocerous" and others. They are not exactly Disney nature films, but at least it shows people care.

But throughout the Academy Award list of 277 movies eligible for awards, from "Aaron Loves Angela" to "The Yakuza" (J'accuse), there is not one honest-to-goodness sea battle or castle siege. No maidens watch wide-eyed while the hero, in a white silk shirt with billowing sleeves, duels the villain (Basil Rathbone); no gallant swings on a chandelier, knocks over two men-at-arms and gallops away. Gosh, I'm overcome with nostalgia.

Cowboys don't even ride off into the sunset anymore.

Dr. Lamb

Many people swallow gas

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a tall, thin 26-year-old woman who would like an answer to my problem. I eat moderate-sized meals that are well-balanced. Shortly after eating I'm terribly bloated and burp excessively.

I end up taking Alka Seltzer but it doesn't help. Sometimes I'll even wake up from a sound sleep burping and hiccuping for a long while. Any pressure from clothing around my stomach increases my misery. Do you have any helpful suggestions?

DEAR READER — You are not alone. About one in 10 of the general population have problems with gas. And most people have a complete misconception about what causes it or what to do about it.

The excess gas you feel shortly after eating is usually not from the food you ate. The most common cause of gas is swallowing air. We all do it but in smaller amounts and in most people the gas passes noiselessly, undetected by all.

How do we know it is air? The gas in the digestive tract has been aspirated and analyzed and in most people it is oxygen and nitrogen or air, and those two gasses are not formed from any of the food you eat.

The air in the stomach and intestines may not cause any feeling of pressure until it is crowded by the meal you eat. That sudden full stomach feeling is caused by the gas you already had in the stomach before eating.

Now some people do have gas from fermentation of foods. A good example is the gas formed from fermentation of unabsorbed lactose, milk sugar, in the person who has this problem.

Certain foods, such as beans, are notorious as gas formers. By proper preparation you can avoid the tendency of beans to form gas.

People tend to swallow air when they drink things. Incidentally, drinking carbonated drinks releases considerable gas into the digestive system.

Others swallow unconsciously and it can be increased with nervousness. The problem is that many doctors simply tell their patients to stop swallowing air. If you are unaware that you are doing this it is pretty hard to stop.

A handy solution is to hold a rubber eraser or pencil between your teeth. It is not so easy to swallow while you are holding such an object between your teeth. You'll soon notice how often you have been swallowing and can then, using an eraser or even a cigarette holder between the teeth, actually train yourself to stop swallowing.

Nervous tension is often a factor in swallowing excessively. Developing the ability to relax more helps solve that problem.

If you want more information about gas formation and things to do to help prevent it send 50 cents for The Health Letter number 6-8, Controlling Gaseousness. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressewd envelope for mailing. Address your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 326, San Antonio Texas 78292.

Incidentally the reason some people have more trouble with gas than others is because they have spasms of the colon. The trapped gas causes pain, otherwise gas not under pressure is often unnoticed.

Once in a while some nasty opponent interferes with your Blackwood call by bidding over it.

There are lots of ways to handle this sort of interference. The one we like to use is to double to show no aces, pass to show one ace and bid to show more.

What do you do if your opponent interferes at such a high level that you have to bid seven if you bid at all? In this case you simply double to say "Partner, I don't think we can make seven." Pass to say "Partner, I think we can make seven." Of course, if you are sure you can make seven you go ahead and bid it.

West's three-club bid was one of those nonvulnerable bids that some players try on occasion. North's Blackwood four notrump was a slight overbid, but he liked his distribution. East's seven-club call put a lot of pressure on South but South was ready.

South studied his hand carefully. His heart suit was good. He had both minor suit aces and the queen of spades. It was just unthinkable for North to be Blackwooding without ace-king of spades and ace of hearts so South bid the lay down grand slam.

Ask Mr. Jacoby

A Wisconsin reader wants to know what he should bid with

♠ A ♥ x x ♦ K Q J 8 5 2 ♣ x x x x

after his right hand opponent opened one diamond.

The answer is that he should pass. A double would be for takeout, a two-diamond call would be a cue bid of sorts and a three-diamond bid might be really hurt.

$5 marriage that's legal

You didn't know you could get married in California without a license, did you? And without a blood test, too? You can. Legally. All you have to do is pay the minister a $5 fee or whatever, get him to say the words, and that's it. Record of the ceremony goes on file with the county clerk, but nobody can check up on the matter without a court order. The law that authorizes such marriages is fairly ancient, but it's still in effect. In Los Angeles alone more than 11,000 couples made the commitment under its provisions last year, I'm told.

JOBS

Only one out of every five jobs that's expected to open up within the next five years will require a college degree. Nonetheless, almost four out of every five high school students are taking college prep classes. Odd.

Q. "Where does Betty Ford rank on that list of our most popular first ladies?"

A. Right close to the top. The scientific surveys don't date back far enough to cover them all. But she's one of those several thought to have outgained even their husbands in public appeal.

Not many but a few experts on life in the penitentiaries contend that convicts should be given marijuana daily to keep them calm. What's your stand on this matter?"

SOUNDS

The various sounds you make when you talk are called phonemes. You vocalize anywhere from 11 to 67 of these phonemes, depending on whether you're just a grunter or a real conversational virtuoso. But if you deliver most of the phonemes in English, you probably use about 40. Now please note, a pig is known to be capable of emitting 23 phonemes, entirely enough to make a spectacular speech, if only said pig knew how. A cow has control of about eight phonemes. But a particularly noisy dolphin might well manage up to 19.

Ounce for ounce, cantaloupe is more nutritious than watermelon, watermelon more than oranges, oranges more than strawberries, strawberries more than bananas and bananas more than apples.

Thoughts

Behold, what I have seen to be good and to be fitting is to eat and drink and find enjoyment in all the toil with which one toils under the sun the few days of his life which God has given him, for this is his lot. — Eccl. 5:18.

Don't neglect bathroom when redecorating home

Despite the utilitarian nature of a bathroom, there's no need to neglect it in the over-all decorating scheme when building or remodeling a house.

A bathroom should have a look of freshness and light, but adding a lot of frills usually will result in a cluttered rather than a pleasant appearance.

The walls and ceiling are the background for any successful decorating project and are especially important in a smaller, confined area such as a bathroom.

Boards Enrich Walls

Rough-sawn 1x6-inch western lumber paneling added warm tones, a rich texture and a contemporary look to the walls and ceiling of the master bath in a California family's home.

The boards were installed vertically on the walls to accent the sloping, higher than ordinary ceiling, and were finished only with a water-repellent coating.

Paired fir 2x12-inch ceiling beams and the window frames, both stained dark, add accent to the walls. One window, set high on the end wall, is sloped along the top edge, following the ceiling line.

Storage on Wall

Cabinets framed in along one wall provide ample storage for towels and other supplies, and is topped by a full-length plastic laminate counter.

White-frosted globe lights flanking a large mirror above the lavatory and the stark white counter top offer contrast to the warm, natural colors of the wood walls and ceiling.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG

Q. — I have been reading a lot about variable interest rates on home mortgages and thought I understood something about them, but in a story the other day there was reference to a floating interest ceiling for home mortgages. What I read didn't seem to jibe with what I previously understood. Are these two things the same and, if not, what's the difference?

A. — In an ordinary mortgage, the rate of interest is set at a certain figure at the time of closing and does not vary for the length of the loan. In the type of variable mortgage under consideration by financial institutions and regulatory agencies, the interest rate could vary during the term of the loan. It would be tied to some economic index, but the change would be limited.

In the case of a plan proposed by the Home Loan Bank, the interest rate could not change more than ½ of 1 per cent in any six-month period and not more than 2½ per cent over the course of the loan. A floating interest ceiling for home mortgages refers to the maximum amount of interest a lender can charge, with a provision for the rate to fluctuate at specified periods under an economic formula. However, the interest would not fluctuate over the term of the mortgage as with a variable mortgage.

Q. — Can you please tell me how to silver a mirror?

A. — I never recommend that this be done as a do-it-yourself project because it involves the use of extremely strong chemicals. Besides, it's a somewhat involved process that requires more than you can learn from a few sentences in this type of question-and-answer column. If you merely want to silver a single mirror, forget about it. If you wish to make it a hobby or a spare-time occupation and you are the kind of person who can handle chemicals very carefully, study the subject thoroughly, reading one or more of the books available on the subject. Better yet, have a professional teach you how to do it.

Variety of asparagus ferns available

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

There are a number of asparagus ferns that make attractive house plants, hanging or table model. One rarer variety, which may be grown from seeds, is Meyerii.

Among oher good house plants that may be raised from seed are the asparagus ferns Sprengeri, Plumosus Inanus, Falcatus, Myriocladus; Maidenhair Fern, Cyperus Umbrellas Plant, Schefflera, Philodendron Selloum.

Sprengeri or Emerald Feather has long, graceful, needlelike sprays; Plumosus is a base-branching plant with horizontal tiers of fine, fern-like, lime-green foliage useful in bouquets; Falcatus has deep green wide leaves while Meyerii has gracefully tapered spikes resembling bright green cones.

Myriocladus is a rare asparagus variety with dark green, pine needle foliage (cost is about $3.50 for five seeds.)

Maidenhair Fern or Adiantun is a true fern. This one develops from spores in two stages: the first stage is a small flattened disc on the soil surface from which the mature stage eventually emerges.

Cyperus is an ornamental foliage plant. The thin leaves are set somewhat as are umbrella ribs, spreading from the tops of multiple stems.

Schefflera has leaf stems spreading from a central trunk with leaflets similar to rubber tree leaves spreading, as do the cyperus, from the tips. Schefflera germinates in two weeks at temperatures of 65-70 degrees, should have little or no fertilizer for the first eight weeks and not much water until it is an inch tall.

Different from the ordinary trailing philodendron is the Selloum variety, which makes a large specimen plant with cup-shape, deeply cut leaves.

Gardeners check list

Plant gladiolus bulbs now. Follow-up with successive plantings every two weeks until spring — this will provide you a succession of garden color, and blooms for cutting, into the warm season.

Select roses now at your nearby nursery. The selection is the largest of the year at this time — the bare root season.

Dwarf fruit trees provide the ideal answer for growing fruit in limited space. The dwarfs can also be grown in containers, becoming a handsome garden accessory as well as a source of luscious fruit. Check with your local nursery to see which dwarf varieties do best in the area.

The winter and early-spring garden needn't lack color. Set-out nursery transplants of pansies, violas, calendulas and fairy primroses for a color transfusion which will last until the heat of summer.

During the winter months, lawns should be kept mowed and be fed regularly. Tread lightly on them, however. Constant tramping during wet weather tends to compact the soil and make it less menageable later in the year.

Spring-blooming bulbs are still to be found in many nurseries, but you should plant them without further delay.

Sprouts 'n' cuttings

English Ivy

Easy to raise is English Ivy, the common name for about 70 varieties of Hedera helix, a family of woody vines native to North Africa and Europe. It doesn't grow very fast but it is popular for apartments because it does not require bright lights and withstands normal house temperature and humidity. However, it does better in good light and 50-60 degree temperatures. There is a wide variety of leaf types and shapes. They require no special soil.

Wedding vows said aboard Queen Mary

The wedding chapel of the Queen Mary in Long Beach was the setting for the marriage of Miss Gail Kimberly Gilbert of Pomona and Gary Vaughn Paulson of La Verne.

The couple was married by the Rev. Jerry Elliott in a candlelight ceremony followed by a reception held aboard ship.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Gilbert of Pomona.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson of Claremont.

Mrs. Susan Caffey of Pomona was honor attendant.

Serving as best man was Vic Corona of Covina.

Bridesmaids were Debbie Navarrette of Pomona, Brenda Crowley of Pomona and Terry Davison of Claremont.

Ushers were Erin Mackinnon of Pomona, Allen Caffey of Pomona and Pierre Carbonneau of Upland.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Mexico and are residing in El Monte.

Candy sale begins for Camp Fire Girls

Mt. San Antonio Council, Camp Fire Girls, began its big sale of the year this week with girls from the area acting as "supersaleswomen" in front of banks, supermarkets, department and local stores.

Other groups of Camp Fire Girls are selling their quality candy and nuts door-to-door with supervising chaperons.

All candy and nuts sold by Southern California Camp Fire Girls are made of the highest quality ingredients. The price has not been raised this year.

Selling candy and nuts is a new and exciting experience for most Camp Fire Girls. The girls learn to make change, meet the public and keep accurate records. Rewards in the form of Girl Recognition items such as charms, emblems and summer camp fees spur the girls on in their three-week effort.

Many recipes for desserts are prepared by the purchasers of the candy and nuts.

Profits from the traditional three-week sale provide a large part of the Camp Fire Girls' annual operating budget.

Prenatal shower set by women

Montclair-Ontario Junior Women's Club members are inviting the public to attend a special kind of prenatal event, a March of Dimes shower.

The gifts will be given to babies, born every other minute of each day, that have come into the world with a congenital birth defect.

The special shower will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., at Santa Fe Federal Savings and Loan, Holt and Euclid avenues, Ontario. Donations of new or used clothing ranging in sizes from 0 to 8 months and all sorts of baby equipment will be gratefully accepted.

Layettes are distributed by the local chapter of the March of Dimes at the request of public health nurses or prenatal care volunteers.

Further information may be obtained by calling Sue Yoakum, 626-3160, or 624-7877. Donations may be taken to A and M. Cycle, 4716 Holt Blvd., Montclair after noon. Arrangements can also be made for pick up of donations.

Inter Nos Club to meet on Tuesday

The Inter Nos Club will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Ramona Avenue Christian Church.

Mrs. Grace Parmalee and Mrs. Helen Bonnet will be cohostesses.

Couple says vows in church service

St. Joseph's CAtholic Church in Pomona was the setting for the marriage of Miss Judy Clinkenbeard of Diamond Bar and James Perkins of Pomona.

The couple was married by the Rev. Joseph Carter in a double-ring ceremony followed by a reception held at the Ebell Club in Pomona.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clinkenbeard of Diamond Bar. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Perkins of Idaho.

Miss Evelyn Johnson of Diamond Bar was honor attendant. Serving as best man was Tim Masters of Alta Loma.

Bridesmaids were Cheri Herndon, Andrea Reina, Sue Rivera and Lori Strickland.

Ushers were Terry Richardson, Sam Duran, Dennis Clinkenbeard and Buz Henslin.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Wrightwood and are residing in Pomona.

7 obstetricians flee

TORRANCE, CALIF. — (BW) — Seven South Bay obstetricians, whose practices served an estimated total of 14,000 women, have either left the area or been forced into early retirement as a direct result of the skyrocketing cost of liability insurance in California.

The doctors are: Joseph Walters and Ralph Rhind, Manhattan Beach; Bert Lee, Harbor City; James Long, William Johnson, Heber Kimball and Sidney Wechsler, Torrance.

Dr. Wechsler, who has accepted a job with the U.S. Public Health service in South Dakota, spent the past twelve years in the South Bay, where he saw close to 100 patients a week and delivered about 120 patients a year.

"I began to consider leaving the area about six months ago," Wechsler said, "and my decision became firm last November. Moving out of the state has gotten to be a common topic of conversation among doctors. A lot of us have maintained licenses in other states."

Dr. Wechsler attributes the departure of his colleagues, as well as his own, after twelve years in the area, to "the phenomenal number of so-called malpractice suits filed in this state. The biggest problem is the preponderance of suits filed on behalf of Medi-Cal patients. Attorneys don't care who they name. They may name as many as ten doctors in one suit.

"We have no recourse against capricious suits, and doctors are just getting more and more discouraged. There hasn't been a new O.B.-GYN. in the area that I know of in the last couple of years, except those who join groups. The tradition of a young doctor setting up practice on his own is dying here. The cost just makes it prohibitive."

DMV offices open to 6:30 on Thursdays

SACRAMENTO (AP) — All of the state Department of Motor Vehicles 147 offices will be kept open until 6:30 p.m. on Thursdays, an extra 90 minutes.

The DMV said Monday it began the late Thursday hours in July at 67 metropolitan offices, and business has been picking up.

H. L. Hammonds, chief of the Division of Field Operations, said that in five months, the 67 offices handled 20,013 registrations, 34,363 drivers license applications and 11,808 driving tests between 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Almanac

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Jan. 23, the 23rd day of 1976. There are 343 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1973, President Richard Nixon announced an accord in the Vietnam war, with a cease-fire to begin on Jan. 27.

On this date—

In 1542, the English King, Henry VIII, took the title of King of Ireland.

In 1920, the Dutch refused to surrender the refugee, ex-Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, to the Allies for punishment as a war criminal.

In 1943, in World War II, British troops entered the North African city of Tripoli.

In 1932, Franklin Roosevelt announced he was a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In 1968, North Korea seized the U.S. Navy ship, Pueblo, and held the 83 crewmen as spies.

In 1974, Israel moved tanks and troops from the West Bank of the Suez Canal in its first step of military disengagement with Egypt.

Ten years ago: A lunar New Year cease-fire in Vietnam expired and fighting was resumed with U.S. Marine artillery opening up one minute after midnight.

Five years ago: The United States rushed supplies to Cambodia to bolster the Phnom Penh airport defenses after the airport had been badly damaged by an enemy attack.

One year ago: The United States disclosed it would furnish Israel with short-range Lance missiles capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

Today's birthdays: Former Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg is 80. French actress Jeanne Moreau is 48.

Thought for today: No people respond more spontaneously to fair play. If you treat Americans well, they always want to treat you better — Sir Winston Churchill, 1874-1965.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, a discouraged General George Washington wrote in a letter from his Cambridge, Mass., headquarters: "I have often thought how much happier I should have been if, instead of accepting a command under such circumstances, I had taken my musket upon my shoulder and entered the ranks."

While Winnebago's special offer lasts!

★Make your best deal on any new Winnebago, then present this coupon.

★Get $300 off a new Minnie Winnie, or up to $500 off other new motor homes.

HURRY, OFFER IS LIMITED. This coupon offer applies only to the purchase of the first 100 Winnebago motor homes sold in Southern California by participating dealers from January 9, 1976 through February 15, 1976, to retail customers. Limit of one purchase per family.

All this plus the Homeowners Plan.

Buying a motor home is a big investment. But only Winnebago offers you this comprehensive package of protection.

Better protection. Our new limited warranty includes several substantial improvements. Items previously covered for only 90 days are now included in our standard 12-month/12,000-mile coverage. This includes carpet, electrical systems, plumbing, seats, cushion fabrics and windows.

Service, service everywhere. No one buys a motor home to sit in the driveway. So Winnebago has put together a network of over 300 service centers. From coast to coast across the U.S., even in Canada and Alaska.

A friend at the factory. If a Winnebago owner has any questions, suggestions or complaints, he can contact our Customer Relations Department at headquarters in Forest City, Iowa.

More money back. Every smart homeowner should consider resale value. Based on a comparison of three-year-old motor home prices in the May-August, 1975 N.A.D.A. Recreational Vehicle Appraisal Guide, Winnebago held a higher resale value than the average of all listed competitive models.

Quick facts for motor home buyers.

Equalized freight rates. Winnebago has now averaged out freight rates all across the country. You pay the same $100 shipping cost no matter where in the U.S. you live (except in Alaska or Hawaii). The same $100 cost applies throughout Canada.

Number one in quality. In a recent nationwide survey, motor home owners (of all makes) ranked Winnebago a solid first in quality and in service as well.

More repeat buyers. More Winnebago owners purchase Winnebagos a second or third time than do owners of any other motor home brand.

WINNEBAGO. The name that means the most in motor homes.

These country music singers have considerable in common

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Freddy Fender, Merle Haggard, David Allen Coe and Glen Sherley have something in common other than being established country music singers. They're all ex-cons.

Johnny Cash and Johnny Rodriquez served brief jail sentences, and Johnny Paycheck once was indicted on a check forgery charge and received a suspended sentence.

"These ex-convicts seem to understand the human emotions and feelings of country music fans," said Larry Baunach, a vice president for ABC Dot records. "This has always been the greatness of country music: people listen to the lyrics.

"These men have had highs and lows and they know what life is all about and seem to be able to convey it more emotionally than others. They know emotionalism."

Fender served three years in Angola State Prison in Louisiana on a 1960 marijuana possession conviction. Released in 1963, he toiled for 12 years until "Before The Next Teardrop Falls" became a hit and was voted 1975 single of the year by the Country Music Association.

"I don't think there's a better place for inspiration than prison," said Fender, who says he was "set up" for his arrest. "My time in prison was hard, but music made it better.

"I wrote some songs in prison, and my time there did mature me. I was not as irresponsible after I got out. I began to feel very responsible."

Coe has spent 20 of his 36 years behind bars and spent some time in a death row cell.

"In some ways it hurt and in some instances it helped," Coe said about how his string of jail terms affected his career.

"It was hard to get credit for instruments and things like that when I got out. But a lot of people identified with it as an image.

"When I got out on parole, I went to West Virginia and played in little places — bars, places like that," he said. "I went to Nashville in 1968 when I got off parole."

His first album was entitled "Penitentiary Blues."

Haggard began serious performing and writing between 1958 and 1960 while serving two years and nine months in San Quentin for burglary and escape.

He was chosen entertainer of the year by the CMA in 1970 and his "Okie from Muskogee" is a classic.

Sherley did 10 years at the Vaccaville Institution in California for armed robbery. When he was released in 1971, he joined the Johnny Cash troupe.

Cash, contrary to popular belief, has never served time in prison. But he has said he spent seven different "one nighters" in various jails.

In 1965, he was charged in El Paso, Tex., with possessing illegal drugs and pleaded guilty, was fined $1,000 and given a 30day suspended sentence.

Cash now performs benefit concerts at various prisons and his albums include "Johnny Cash at San Quentin" and "Johnny Cash at Folsom Prison."

Rodriguez was jailed in the Austin, Tex., area on a charge of stealing three goats when a Texas ranger heard him singing, called a country music promoter, who later became his manager, and got him on his way to success.

Rodriguez has said he stole the goats so he and friends could have meat for a party.

Paycheck was indicted in Nashville in 1972 on a check forgery charge. He received an 11-month, 29-day suspended sentence and was placed on three years' probation.

Pro Bowl threat ends

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A boycott of the Pro Bowl would have stung the wrong people, so about 50 National Football League stars decided not to take a strike vote, said players' union representatives.

The threat of a player boycott of Monday night's game hung over pregame preparations all week, and the uncertain status of the game was blamed for sagging ticket sales.

"It boiled down to a question of who would be hurt, if the game were cancelled, and a question of whether a cancellation would have had enough impact on the owners," said NFL Players Association Executive Director Ed Garvey.

In a 90-minute closed meeting, the players decided management would not have been hurt by a boycott, but football fans would have been, Garvey said. About 30 members of the all-star squads did not attend the meeting.

"After a prolonged discussion of the situation, we decided it was in our best interests not even to vote on whether there would be a strike," said union President Kermit Alexander.

He denied that the decision to avoid a strike vote could be considered a setback for the associaion.

"For it to have become a defeat, we would have had to have come into the meeting planning to strike," he said.

Both Alexander and Garvey said all week long that they would not recommend any course of action to the players.

The NFL owners' refusal to pay anything into the players' pension fund for the past two years prompted the boycott talk, Garvey said. But he said several other issues were discussed.

Elvin Bethea, Houston Oilers defensive end, said he felt that the lack of a contract could permit owners to cancel hospitalization and other benefits if they should decide to do so.

Garvey said that although the players' pension plan is adequately funded to cover those who were enrolled when the union's contract with the league expired Jan. 31, 1974, there are 220 players not covered by the plan. "Anyone who was a rookie in 1974 or 1975 is not covered," he said.

Alan Page, defensive tackle for the Minnesota Vikings, said he would like to see more communication between the players and league management.

"We think it would be appropriate if Pete Rozelle and Sargent Karch and representatives of the owners would meet with us," Page said. "One of the keys to learning to live together is learning to talk together."

Rozelle is commissioner of the NFL and Karch is head of the NFL Management Council, bargaining agent for the owners.

"Commissioner Rozelle is supposed to be working for the fans, the owners and the players," Page said. "Why wouldn't he be willing to speak to the people who work for him."

NFL owners were scheduled to convene here over the weekend, but Rozelle cancelled that meeting. The owners were to discuss the expansion draft, but Rozelle said such plans would be futile since the issue is tied up in litigation.

He said that he would arrive in New Orleans Saturday and might meet with some of the players socially. But he said he would not meet with the players as a group.

Page, Garvey and Alexander all referred to the scheduled owners' meetings as an ideal time for the players and the owners to confer, but they were unaware of the commissioner's decision to cancel the meeting.

"I wrote to Sargent Karch questioning the legality of the expansion draft, and they postponed the draft. Alan suggested that they talk with us and they cancelled the meeting. We're almost afraid to make any suggestions," said Garvey when told of Rozelle's announcement later in the evening.

Garvey said he didn't feel that the cancellation of the meetings would prompt another vote on a boycott, "but we'll certainly tell the players the news."

McGarvey scores KO

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ronnie McGarvey, 127, of Washington D.C. scored a seventh-round knockout in his scheduled 10-rounder against Memin Becerra, 125½, of Guadallajara, Mexico, Thursday night.

There were no knockdowns and referee Rudy Jordan halted the fight at 1:49 of the seventh round as Becerra was being flogged by McGarvey in a neutral corner.

McGarvey is undefeated and has 19 knockouts in 29 bouts.

Becerra now has 19 victories, three defeats and a draw as a professional.

Damien greets Giants tonight

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Ganesha High will travel to Damien tonight, and the winner will stay in second place in the San Antonio League basketball race while the loser drops into third or a tie for third.

It would take a miracle for Upland, 0-5 in league play and 1-13 on the year, to beat visiting Garey tonight. The Vikings, 5-0, 12-5, seem to be improving with each game.

So the winner of tonight's Damien-Ganesha clash figures to remain one game off the pace. The loser will drop two games back.

"This is really a big one for us," said Damien coach Bill Roberts. "Of course its a big one for them (the Giants) too.

"If we win (tonight) it would really help us out as far as getting into the playoffs goes, because then everyone but us and Garey would have two or more losses," Roberts continued.

"And of course we've already played Garey once, but Ganesha still has to play them twice."

The Spartans and the Giants are both 4-1 in league games. Damien's loss came in its league opener against Garey, 57-51. The Giants also lost their opener, but that defeat was to Montclair, a team with a 4-10 season record.

"I didn't expect to lose to Montclair but I knew it would be close," said Gary Fulkerson, Ganesha's head coach. The final score of the game, played at Montclair, was 63-61.

The Spartans have Fulkerson worried as well. "They have three exceptional players: (Mike) Wetenkamp, (Jon) Kolodge and (Bill) Duffy," he said.

"Wetenkamp always seems to be where he should be," continued Fulkerson, "and Duffy has as much talent as anybody in the league."

Wetenkamp is the valley's leading scorer, with better than 23 points per game.

"Mike really works hard," said Roberts. "He's such a determined kid you can't stop him. He'll get his points no matter what." Wetenkamp's lowest total in a league game so far is 19 points.

Kolodge has averaged better than 13 points per game and Duffy is just under that figure.

"We're basically a defensive team," said Roberts. "We have three people who can put the ball through the hoop and the rest of the kids are willing to give it to them."

Ganesha's top scoring threat after Terry is Verdon, who began the year as a reserve but has averaged nearly 18 points in league play.

Michael Williams, a senior forward, has done well recently in a reserve role for the Giants.

"Williams is a very rugged player and has the ability to keep his mind on the game when he's on the bench and to do a good job when he comes in," said Fulkerson. Williams scored 24 points against Chino to spark a six-point win for Ganesha.

Warriors dump Lakers again

OAKLAND (AP) — The Golden State Warriors take turns starring, and now George Johnson has had his turn.

The 6-foot-11 reserve center, who spent two years in semipro basketball in the San Francisco Bay Area after being cut by the Chicago Bulls, was the hero of the Warriors 129-105 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Thursday.

Beating Los Angeles for the fourth time in as many meetings this National Basketball Association season gave the Warriors a 10½-game lead over the runner-up Lakers in the Pacific Division.

Johnson scored 16 points and had 14 rebounds. He sparked a second-half Warrior surge to a come-from-behind victory and outplayed Laker superstar Kareem Abdul-Jabbar after the intermission.

"I've never seen George Johnson play better," said Golden State's Coach Al Attles.

"Our continuity broke down and their super defense stopped us," said Laker Coach Bill Sharman. "George Johnson was outstanding."

Johnson, who has averaged 20 minutes of playing time a game to starter Clifford Ray's 28 minutes, teamed up with up with reserves Gus Williams and Dwight Davis to spark a spree in which the Warriors outscored Los Angeles 42-9 at the end of the third and start of the fourth quarter.

Trailing 78-67 in the third period, Golden State made 16 straight points, with Johnson and Rick Barry each getting six, and the Lakers were out of it from there.

Barry finished with a game-high 31, and Phil Smith added 17. Gail Goodrich topped the Lakers with 29 points, and Abdul-Jabbar had 20 and 15 rebounds.

"Our defense kept us in the game until our offense started to hit," Attles said. "Our substitutes did a great job."

Sharman, whose team was playing its first game after an eight-day layoff said, "We weren't sharp. The Warriors had the quickness and the speed, and we made the mistakes."

The Warriors hit 48 per cent of their field goals to the Lakers' 40 per cent and outrebounded the visitors 64-44.

The victory was the 18th in 19 home games for the Warriors, and drew the 10th sellout crowd here this season, 12,787.

Murphy's four goals beat Leafs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mike Murphy came up with a hat trick in the final period and added a goal in the first period to spark the Los Angeles Kings to a 6-3 National Hockey League victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"It gave me a real thrill, mostly because we were able to win," Murphy said Thursday after the first four-goal game of his career. "Toronto has been a jinx club for us."

Marcel Dionne was Murphy's right-hand man on all four goals and ended up with five assists for the night.

"The five assists made me happy, but I'm happier we won," Dionne said. "Murphy could easily have 25 goals now instead of the 17 he has. Shots are starting to go in for him now."

It was the first victory for the Kings over the Maple Leafs in the last seven meetings, stretching back into last season. The Kings trailed 3-2 in the second period before Murphy hit his hot streak.

"It's good to break out of the drought like this, with four goals" said Murphy, "because it takes the pressure off Marcel Dionne and Butch Goring, who've been doing most of the scoring."

The Kings' win broke Toronto's three-game victory string.

Dionne set off the come-from-behind rally with a behind-the-back pass to Whitey Widing, who beat Toronto goalie Gord McRae to tie it up.

Murphy then put the game on ice by scoring his 15th, 16th and 17th goals of the season. The first of the three was into an open net.

Dionne set a team record with five assists and fed Murphy for each of his four goals. The fiery Kings center now has 28 goals and 33 assists for a total of 61 points in the NHL race.

Vic Venasky scored the other Los Angeles goal, his ninth of the season.

The Leafs scored on Lanny McDonald's 20th goal of the season, an unassisted goal by Borje Salming and a shorthanded goal on a breakaway by Ian Turnbull.

Notre Dame rematch next

UCLA keeps struggling

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES — It's difficult to tell who are the winners these days at Pauley Pavilion.

UCLA's numbers are certainly impressive.

The Bruins enjoyed their 94th consecutive home court victory Thursday night in a 64-50 win over UC Santa Barbara to raise the season record to 14-2.

But it was another unimpressive performance against a team which shouldn't be able to stay on the court against the defending national champions.

Coach Gene Bartow knew it.

"The way things are going, I guess I am going to have to agree with my critics," Bartow said after the lackluster victory.

It's safe to say Bartow has had his problems filling the shoes of the legendary John Wooden and the pressures seem to be getting to him more all the time.

"I can't understand what's happening to us," the man from Missouri continued. "We should be playing much better. I am concerned."

What will Bartow do about it?

"If our starters don't show considerable improvement, you can look for a lot of freshman to be starting future UCLA basketball games," he threatened.

Things won't soon improve for Bartow and his Bruins.

UCLA heads for Notre Dame today for a nationally televised rematch with the Irish at 1 p.m. (PST) Saturday.

The Bruins did defeat the Irish, 86-70, here last month in their most impressive game of the season but even Wooden found out things can be much more difficult on Notre Dame's home court.

UCLA resumes Pacific-8 Conference play next Saturday when crosstown rival USC, losers of five in a row, visit Pauley Pavilion.

"Thank heaven we didn't play USC tonight," Bartow said after Thursday's victory. "USC will be most difficult for us when we play them, particularly if we play like we did tonight."

UCSB (10-5) made things difficult for the Bruins with a deliberate passing offense and an aggressive defense which limited UCLA to 39.4 per cent from the floor.

The Gauchos took a 26-24 halftime lead but UCLA took command in the second half when forward Richard Washington scored 19 of his 27 points.

Santa Barbara was still within range at 57-50 with 3:40 left but the Bruins scored the final seven points of the game to make the final score wider than the game indicated.

Washington was the big man for the Bruins as he made 11 of 21 field goals, five of six free throws and grabbed 11 rebounds. Marques Johnson (11), Ralph Drollinger (10) and Raymond Townsend (10) also scored in double figures.

UCSB was led by guard Andy Oliveira with 14 points. He was followed by center John Service's 12 and forward Tex Walker's 11.

Santa Barbara shot 42.3 per cent from the floor and was out rebounded, 45-36.

UCLA now enjoys a 15-0 margin in its series against its neighbors up the coast but hardly anybody in Westwood is happy about it today.

Big comeback at Santa Anita

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Chief Hawk Ear, dead last at the start of the final curve, rallied boldly between horses and earned a stunning victory Thursday in the $18,000 feature race at Santa Anita Park.

The 8-year-old brown horse, carrying 118 pounds including Jerry Lambert, bolted into contention as the horses came off the final turn and was only fourth in the seven-horse field. Lambert kept the pressure on and Chief Hawk Ear pulled away from late-kicking Barrydown for a length victory.

Chief Hawk Ear ran 1⅛ miles on the turf in 1:48 and paid $11.60, $5.80 and $3.40. Barrydown paid $5.40 and $3.20 and Bold Talent paid $3.40.

Leopards try to break jinx

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

La Verne College will be out to break its home court jinx tonight (8 p.m.).

The Leopards, 1-3 in the SCIAC, have notched their only conference win on the road. Overall, the Leos have won but two of six in the Supertent.

Visiting Pomona-Pitzer, 2-3, gave the Leos all they could handle in two meetings last year. La Verne won both but by a margin of only three points.

At Pomona's Memorial Gym, the Leos squeezed by the Sagehens, 57-55. In the Supertent, Tim Gillette's bucket with four seconds left gave La Verne a 51-50 win in a game that ended in controversy.

The Sagehens called timeout as soon as Gillette scored. But the time keeper allowed the clock to run down to one second. Instead of having the clock reset, referee Lorenzo Clark instructed the time keeper to count off the seconds, at his signal one thousand one, one thousand two etc. and start the clock.

Clark signaled, but the time keeper counted very fast and it appeared that the 'Hens got less time than they should have. This year the schools are required to use adult rather than student time keepers.

The struggling Leopards have dropped seven of their last nine games. Pomona-Pitzer has put together back-to-back wins for the first time this year.

The 'Hens defeated Claremont-Mudd, 61-43, and Caltech, 100-51. Forward Brandon Boyd has recovered from a bad case of the flu and scored 31 points in the last two games.

Freshman center Ed McFadden has begun to score consistently. The 6-9 McFadden has totaled 30 points in the last two games despite playing far less than 40 minutes each time.

"I'm happy to see McFadden taking up some of the scoring slack," said Pomona coach Les Nagler. "That somewhat offsets not having Tom Cope."

Cope, a 6-2 sophomore forward, has been sidelined since early season with mononucleosis and apparently will not play anymore this year.

"I was really counting on Tom," said Nagler. "He is probably one of the best pure shooters on the squad."

At the same time the Leos and 'Hens are going at it in the Supertent, Claremont-Mudd will be taking on Redlands in Ducey Gym.

The Stags' only win in a 1-4 conference season was over Caltech. But Dave Wells' youngsters nearly pulled off an upset over La Verne before losing, 88-85, in overtime.

Redlands, 4-0, surprised Whittier the last time out.

"They play strong defense," said Wells. "We'll just have to play a little stronger. I feel we have to force turnovers because we don't get many rebounds."

The Bulldogs defeated Whittier 65-57 the last time out. Earlier wins were over La Verne (72-69), Pomona-Pitzer (71-53) and Caltech (118-49).

Ispas 'big' in Poly's attack

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

RIVERSIDE — Cal Poly's Tom Ispas might be the smallest man on the court but he could prove to be the biggest factor here tonight when Poly faces arhrival UC Riverside in an 8 p.m. contest at the Highlanders' gym.

With Ispas now adding some scoring to Poly's offensive punch, the Broncs figure to be tougher than ever to stop in the rugged California Collegiate Athletic Association race. Ispas, the playmaking sophomore guard from East Chicago, Ind., has opened Poly's attack, forcing the opponents to respect his shooting enough to enable Joe Sills, Jack Gamulin and Paul Newton more openings.

After scoring 54 points in the first 11 games, Ispas has put in 27 in the last two in making 12 of 17 field goals — most of them from outside.

Any scoring from Ispas is a big bonus. Nobody can expect a player who is listed as 5-foot-8 to be a big point producer.

If anything, the 5-8 figure is giving the guard a few inches.

When asked about it, Ispas just grins, "I think I'm honestly 5-7. At least I hope so."

The lack of size hasn't hampered his plans to play college basketball even though he is constantly looking up at his opponents.

"I watched Monte Towe (the former North Carolina State star) and I have tried to follow his example," Ispas said.

How can a little guy compete in a game built for big men?

"I try to use my quickness and to do the basic things well," Ispas said. "I wish I was taller but I just have to work extra hard."

And he does.

"Tom is a tremendous competitor," says Poly Coach Don Hogan. "He goes at his maximum effort at all times. He may be little but he has a big heart."

It's no accident Ispas is good enough to earn a starting role at Poly.

He earned honorable mention status on the Indiana All-State team and was the runner-up his senior season for the state's coverted Mr. Mini Basketball award annually presented to the best player 5-10 or smaller.

Ispas set a school record at Bishop Noll High in Hammond with 179 assists. His team won sectional and regional championships in the state tournament his senior year.

"I just grew up with basketball," Ispas said. "All anybody does in Indiana during the winter is play basketball."

Ispas considered scholarship offers from Cornell and Texas A&M and even had letters from Bobby Knight at Indiana before deciding on Poly.

"I got quite a few letters from Indiana until they found out my size," he said. "They were looking for a 6-foot-5 player."

Ispas was recruited by Allen Van Winkle, Poly's assistant coach who also is an Indiana native.

Sun hurts Crosby scores

Sure, Jack Nicklaus got away with a 67, but just look at the other scores: Johnny Miller 74 with a lost ball. Billy Casper 75. Defending champion Gene Littler 76. Tom Weiskopf 76. Hale Irwin 77. Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer 79. Tony Jacklin 81. Former Crosby champion Tom Shaw 86.

The weather got 'em, okay. Sure enough.

But it wasn't Crosby weather. Crosby weather—the tag put on the rain, wind, cold, sleet, mud, ocean spray, fog and occasional snow that usually plagues the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament—was among the missing.

Instead, the spectacular beauty of the Monterey Peninsula was resplendent in brilliant sunshine and warm temperatures. The fairways were dry and the greens fast. Playing conditions were near perfect—and, therefore, very unfamiliar.

And it put the scores out of sight—among the highest on the tour in years—in Thursday's first round of this unique, $185,000 event that is played over three golf courses. There were 29 scores of 80 or higher.

Nicklaus and a handful of others were exceptions.

Nicklaus, using a new set of clubs in competition for the first time, shot a five-under-par 67 that tied him for the lead with journeyman Mike Morley, still looking for his first title in seven years of tour competition.

"These courses are much tougher under these conditions than when they are wet and soft," said Nicklaus, the 1975 Player of the Year. "You put a little wind with conditions like this and it'd really be tough."

"They're playing golf courses that are new to them," explained Jack Tuthill, the veteran head of the tour's field staff. "Usually, the fairways are soft and wet and there's no run on the ball. Now they're hard and dry and the ball is running. And it's running into places they've never seen, places they didn't know existed."

But Nicklaus, who opened his season with only the third set of clubs he's used as a pro, and Morley had little difficulty. George Johnson was one stroke back of them with a 68. Bruce Summerhays and Australian David Graham had 69s. Bob Wynn, Gary Groh and Jim Colbert were at 70.

Nicklaus, Morley, Johnson and Summerhays played Cypress Point. Graham, Wynn and Colbert were at Pebble Beach. Groh played at Spyglass Hill. The pros, each with an amateur partner, play one round at each of the par-72 layouts before the final round Sunday at Pebble Beach, where Nicklaus has won four professional events, including the 1972 U.S. Open.

"Obviously, I played fairly well. It was a pretty good opening round," said the obviously pleased Nicklaus, who's clubs will come out under his signature later this year.

"I've never used castings before," he said. "I just wanted to see how I'd do using clubs that will be used by the public."

He managed seven birdies with them, just missing on two eagle putts and lipping out an eight-foot putt on the final hole that would have given him the lead alone. He had two bogeys, both after missing the green.

Morley missed only one green and didn't have a bogey. He reached two par fives in two and two-putted and got his other birdies after hitting iron shots less than five feet from the cup.

Bruins deal Sabres a 'lucky loss,' 5-3

By Associated Press

Bruins' Coach Don Cherry may have been the only man in Boston who thought the Buffalo Sabres were fortunate. Certainly, Sabres' Coach Floyd Smith didn't agree.

But Cherry, whose team moved four points ahead of the Sabres in the National Hockey League's Adams Division with a 5-3 victory Thursday night, thought the Sabres were lucky to get off as easily as they did.

"If we keep banging around in the third period the way we have, someone had better have a good lead on us," Cherry said, "or we're going to get them...we should have beaten the Sabres a lot worse."

Wayne Cashman scored two goals and rookie Doug Gibson got three assists to guide the Bruins, who outshot the Sabres 38-15.

Cashman snapped a 3-3 tie on a pass from Gibson at 14:54 of the third frame, and Terry O'Reilly added a goal with 55 seconds left.

"We managed to get it tied," Smith said. "We didn't deserve it, but we did. Then the kid (Cashman) went around outside and put it in the net. They just worked harder than us. We skated for seven minutes in the third period, and we took the game away from them, then we stopped."

In other NHL contests Thursday night, the New York Islanders downed Detroit 8-1, Philadelphia beat Atlanta 7-2, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, and Los Angeles defeated Toronto 6-3.

In the night's only World Hockey Association game, Phoenix defeated Toronto 6-4.

Islanders 8, Red Wings 1

New York's Jean Potvin notched the first three-goal night of his six-year NHL career, and his brother Denis Potvin and Ralph Stewart each added two more goals as the Islanders rolled over Detroit.

Flyers 7, Flames 2

Reggie Leach's three goals led the Flyers to their easy win. Bill Barber added two more and had three assists, and Orest Kindrachuk, playing on the Leach-Barber line in place of the injured Bobby Clarke, had four assists. It was the eighth victory in nine games for the defending NHL champs.

Canadiens 4, Penguins 3

Steve Shutt scored two goals in the first period, and, despite being outshot 45-33, Montreal held on to beat Pittsburgh. Peter Mahovlich and Guy Lafleur picked up three points each, Lafleur with a goal and two assists and Mahovlich with three assists.

Roadrunners 6, Toros 4

Barry Dean broke a 10-game scoring drought with a go-ahead goal midway through the third period that boosted Phoenix to victory.

Phoenix broke to a 2-0 lead off first-period goals by Cam Connor and Rob Ftorek, then surrendered four straight. Two were unassisted breakaways by Jean-Luc Phaneuf.

Selmon voted top lineman

HOUSTON (AP) — There's a small, 40-acre farm near Eufaula, Okla., that has been growing a very special kind of crop in recent years.

In 1973, the farm produced University of Oklahoma all-American Lucious Selmon and in 1975 two more All-Americans, Leroy and Dewey Selmon, sprouted from the fertile soil of Lucious and Jesse Selmon.

And Thursday night it yielded still another honor when Leroy Selmon was named winner of the 1975 Vince Lombardi Award, symbolic of the nation's outstanding lineman.

"What Mom put into us at home has been the backbone of our careers," Leroy said shortly before accepting the 45-pound granite trophy named in honor of the former Green Bay and Washington coach who died in 1970 of cancer.

Leroy Selmon, an All-American defensive tackle who led the Sooners in tackles and earlier won the Outland Trophy, beat out his brother Dewey, Texas A&M linebacker Ed Simonini and Notre Dame defensive tackle Steve Niehaus for the honor.

Foreman 5-2 pick over Lyle

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing king George Foreman opens his soul when he declares, "I hate not being the champion, I hate it.

"I'm not jealous, not of Muhammad Ali, but of not being the heavyweight champion."

Knocked out by Ali at Zaire, Africa, in the eighth round of their title match on Oct. 30, 1974, Foreman makes his first comeback fight in battling Ron Lyle at Caesars Palace in a 12-rounder Saturday starting at 2 p.m. PST.

Foreman, the ex-Olympic gold medal winner and professional champion, is favored at 5-2 odds. Yet Lyle could act as the spoiler to his ambitions of regaining the heavyweight crown.

"I'm more relaxed than ever before," Foreman says, and he has been showing the effects of the coaching from veteran boxing pilot Gil Clancy, who has urged Foreman to cut down on the length of his punches.

"If I go back to my old style, it only means he is going to get knocked out quicker," says Foreman, whose statements failed to bear out the fact he has been acting out the sequences that Clancy has set for him.

In Las Vegas, fights are scored by three judges under the five-point-per-round rule and the referee does not have a ballot.

Few in this betting city think the Foreman-Lyle battle will go the route. If it ends early, the favorite is Foreman, but if it goes the route, Lyle is expected to be the stronger.

"I know this is my chance to get back into the picture," says Lyle, who lost to Ali by a knockout in a title bout at this desert city when he was stopped in 11 rounds.

"I did not go down and I think it was unfair to stop that fight," said Lyle, who has a 31 3-1 record compared with 41-1-0 for Foreman.

The ex-champion tells everyone who will listen:

"All remember that I lost to Ali, but not a lot remember that was my only loss."

Foreman looked trim as he wrapped up his sparring and said he hoped to end the nationally-televised battle quickly. However, Lyle never has been knocked out in his 35 pro outings and must be rated the better boxer.

Foreman said he tried other enterprises after losing to Ali but, "I didn't get the zing in anything else.

"I want to resume what happened in Africa. I'll fight Ken Norton, Joe Frazier or anybody else to get to be champion. If I have to knock out Ken Norton again, I'll do that."

Norton, of Los Angeles, is rated the No. 1 contender with the best chance of meeting Ali after he boxes Jean-Pierre Coopman in Puerto Rico. Asked if Ali might 'retire after a bout with Norton, Foreman said, "I have no idea what he might want to do. I want to be champion again."

Sports briefs

DALLAS (AP) — Ron Meyer, who took an infant program at Nevada-Las Vegas and gave it maturity, now has the job of taking a sick program at Southern Methodist University and making it well.

Meyer was named the new head football coach for the Mustangs Thursday.

SMU has been on probation the last two years and this week the probation was extended another year without television or postseason sanctions. Its 4-7 record last year was posted before more empty seats at home than occupied ones. The Mustangs also will have big graduation losses this year, and Meyer will get a late start on recruiting.

ANAHEIM (AP) — Ruth Ryan, the wife of California Angels no-hit pitcher Nolan Ryan, gave birth to the couple's second son Wednesday, the American League team announced Thursday.

Nolan Reese Ryan, 7 pounds 2 ounces, was born in a Houston hospital and named after Jimmie Reese, the 70-year-old Angel coach who has been Ryan's close friend the last few years.

The Ryans have a 4-year-old son named Robert Reid Ryan. Since all the Ryans are called by their middle names, the new addition to the family will be called Reese.

The pitcher's real name is Lynn Nolan Ryan.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — John Martin and Sheldon Kinser have become the first drivers nominated for the 1976 Indianapolis 500-mile auto race.

Martin, Irvine, Calif., and Kinser, Bloomington, Ind., will drive cars co-owned by J. C. Agajanian, Los Angeles, and Grant and Doris King, Indianapolis.

King will be crew chief for both entries.

Martin finished 11th in the Indianapolis race last year and fifth in the California 500. Kinser was one of last year's top rookies at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and had a 12th place finish.

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Malone College Coach Jay Bowerman paid a saddened tribute to Larry Arrington the star and captain of his basketball team, who died Thursday in Massillon City Hospital.

"He was one of the most loved and respected players I have ever coached," Bowerman said.

Arrington, 23, a member of Malone's National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament team last season, died after a six-month bout with cancer.

The 6-foot-6 forward was named to the NAIA All-American team as an honorable mention last season after leading his team to berth in the quarterfinals of the NAIA national championships.

BADGASTEIN, Austria — Rosi Mittermaier, West Germany, leader in World Cup standings, won her first World Cup race in the giant slalom.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Unseeded Wojek Fibak of Poland upset fifth-seeded Sandy Mayer of Wayne, N.J., 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 in a quarterfinal match of the Birmingham International Indoor Tournament.

FAIRFAX, Va. — Top seeded Chris Evert eliminated Betty Stove 6-2, 4-6, 6-1 to move into the quarterfinals of the $75,000 Wasington Women's Tournament.

CATONSVILLE, Md. — Marty Reissen easily defeated Bob Hewitt 6-1, 7-5, 6-2 to move into the quarter-finals of the $50,000 Baltimore International Tournament.

PHOENIX (AP) — The Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association have hired veteran player and coach Al Bianchi as a scout and assistant coach.

NEW YORK — In a three-horse photo finish, Our Reward, $5.00, won the $25,000 Golden Don Handicap over Idelwild at Aqueduct.

MIAMI — Six Foot Power, $27.00, outdueled favored Gabilan and won the Roman Brother Purse at Hialeah.

Damien, Ganesha seek second place

But Fulkerson feels his squad has been improving since that loss. "We're going to be very tough this year before its over," he said.

"One of the problems we've had was trying to convince the kids back from last year that we couldn't play the run-and-gun type of game that we played then."

The Giants are a young club this season. Both starting guards — George Terry and Ken Dudley — are seniors, but forward Les Harris is a junior and center George Hawthorne and forward James Verdon are both sophomores.

Fulkerson expects Hawthorne, a 6-foot-8 transfer from Oakland, to be a superstar before he's through at Ganesha.

But it's Terry, averaging almost 20 points per game, who has Roberts worried.

"George Terry really scares me," the Damien coach said. "He beat us twice last year."

Terry came off the bench to score 15 and 17 points in Ganesha's two victories over Damien in 1975.

"That whole team scares me," Roberts continued. "If they have a good game, they'll be hard to beat even if we play well. They're inconsistent — they have to be, starting two sophomores and all.

"I hope they don't have a good game against us. That's all I can say. But we've looked good in practice and the kids are really looking forward to the game.

"We played very well Tuesday against Chino," continued Roberts. The Spartans dumped the Cowboys, 65-57. "That was the first time I've been really satisfied for some time."

Elsewhere in the San Antonio League tonight, Pomona will visit Chino and Montclair will host Claremont.

The Pomona-Chino game will be broadcast live on radio station KSOM, 93.5 on the FM dial, as are all Cowboy home games.

The Hacienda League schedule sends Ontario to Alta Loma, Royal Oak to Bonita, San Dimas to Gladstone and Sierra Vista to Walnut.

In other games, Chaffey will host Redlands, Ontario Christian will entertain Bell Jeff and American Christian will travel to Riverside Christian. All games will begin at 8 p.m.

'Simple question' results in ejection

By Associated Press

It was a simple question Bill Russell asked National Basketball Association referee Darrell Garrettson.

"All I said to him was 'Are you going to be a homer all night?'"

The remark got the Seattle coach thrown out of the game, a game which saw the Cleveland Cavaliers defeat the Seattle SuperSonics 109-99. Russell, the former Boston Celtics star player and coach wasn't surprised at the referee's reaction.

"Nothing surprises me anymore," Russell said. "I just wish I could have cussed a little more and really got my money's worth."

While Russell made his remark to Garrettson, he wasn't sure which referee threw him out of the game. "They all look alike to me," Russell said.

In other NBA games Thursday night, Washington crushed New Orleans 109-86 and Golden State defeated Los Angles 129-105.

In the only American Basketball Association game on tap, Virginia stopped St. Louis 128-117.

Jim Chones and Bingo Smith paced Cleveland's victory by scoring 22 points each. The Sonics, converting three straight turnovers, pulled to 104-97 with 1:27 left, but Smith's 25-foot jumper and Jim Brewer's slam dunk sealed the Cavaliers' victory.

Bullets 109, Jazz 86

Len Robinson made the most of his chance. Subbing for the injured Elvin Hayes, Robinson scored 14 points and blocked a club-record eight shots to lead Washington over New Orleans. The Bullets, paced by Phil Chenier's 20 points, hit 70 per cent of their field goal attempts in the second period to take a 49-37 lead, then blew the game early with a 9-2 streak to open the third period. Six Washington players finished in double figures while rookie Rich Kelley scored 20 to lead New Orleans.

Squires 128, Spirits 117

Mack Calvin's eight straight points late in the game clinched Virginia's victory over St. Louis. Calvin, who missed the first three months of the season with an injury, paced the Squires with 24 points, while Ticky Burden added 21 and Mike Green 20.

Poly tests Riverside

"I liked the academic program at Poly," said the electrical engineering student, "and I figured I had a good chance to play. I didn't want to go somewhere and sit around."

Ispas saw a lot of playing last year as a freshman and won a starting job this season. He is averaging 6.3 points and 3.4 rebounds a game but the important thing is his 4.7 assists average.

"I like hitting the open man for the basket and directing our fast breaks," Ispas said. "I feel good about scoring and have more confidence in my shooting but the assists are the big thing."

Playing UCR at its noisy gymnasium is always extra special and Ispas knows it.

"I'm looking forward to this game," he said. "UCR's guards, Larry Reynolds and Reggie Mims, made the All-Conference team last year. This game gives me a chance to prove something."

Poly enters tonight's battle with an 1-0 CCAA record and 7-6 overall helped by a four-game winning streak.

UCR is hurting with an 0-1 league mark and 5-8 for the season.

The Highlanders are on a six-game losing streak — the longest in Freddie Goss' seven years as head coach — and are in danger of losing three home games in a season for the first time.

Hogan knows the Riverside talent is better than the record indicates.

"We're in for a real dogfight," the Poly coach said.

Under Goss, Riverside has compiled one of the best NCAA Division II records in the nations. His Highlander teams have won four CCAA NCAA Regional titles including the past two.

Goss will probably start a lineup tonight of fowards Alvin Joseph (6-7) and Russ Rodgers (6-5), center Leo Wills (6-5) and guards Reynolds (6-1) and Mims (6-5).

Joseph, a transfer from Cal St. Bakersfield, is the top scorer with a 15.2 average and tops the rebounders with 10.2 a game.

BRONC BUSTERS — Poly's Newton leads the CCAA in rebounding with 11.1 per game while Sills is first in free throw percentage by making 53 of 59 for 89.8 per cent.

Sills is averaging 21.8 points a game followed by Gamulin at 18.3 and Newton at 12.0.

Strings sign Rosie Casals

LOS ANGELES — Rosie Casals, the colorful Californian who has won every major doubles title in the world, has signed her 1976 contract with the Los Angeles Strings of World Team Tennis.

Casals, winner of 55 of 84 WTT sets with the Strings last year, is the first player signed to a '76 contract by Los Angeles.

Seaborne leads Webb by Trojans

Webb School never trailed Thursday night in handling Arrowhead League foe La Verne Lutheran a 50-30 cage loss in a contest played at Damien High.

The Gauls built up a 27-13 halftime lead and coasted home to the win, their second in five league outings. Overall the Gauls are now 6-7 on the season. Lutheran saw its A.L. slate fall to 0-5. The Trojans are 7-8 on the year.

Doug Seaborne led the winners with 15 points, despite the fact he fouled out of the game in the third quarter. Guard Steve Galvan chipped in with 12 and Marshall Morton added nine.

Gregg Guenther topped Trojan scorers with 11, Russ Houston next high with nine markers.

Both squads will resume Arrowhead action next Tuesday. Webb will entertain Orange Lutheran while the Trojans will be at Sherman.

DuVall gaining in derby

Only slight changes show in the weekly PB basketball derby.

Stu DuVall of Claremont-Mudd has moved into the top seven in scoring among valley four-year colleges. DuVall had 29 points in two games last week to bring his average up from 9.7 points - per - game over the required 10 minimum average.

La Verne's Dwight Washington replaced Poly's Jack Gamulin among the top five rebounders. Washington is averaging 7.9 boards per game to Gamulin's 7.8.

Pomona-Pitzer's Brandon Boyd and Steve Pinkston made their first appearance on the assists leaders' chart. They replace Mike Winze and Stuart Campbell of La Verne. The Leos' statistics for assists were not available.

Last week's leaders in each category retained their lead. Poly's Joe Sills is the scoring leader (21.8). Tim Gillette of La Verne still leads in rebounding (11.3) and Poly's Tom Ispas in assists (4.7).

Baseball film now available

"Super Series '75", a 30-minute color film reviewing the highlights of the 1975 World Series between the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Red Sox, is available to groups through either the Los Angeles Dodgers or the California Angels.

The movie, produced by Major League Baseball Films and narrated by Joe Garagiola, is highlighted by slow motion views of some of the key plays in the Series, along with the extensive use of microphones to pick up comments from the players and managers, as well as crowd reaction.

Groups interested in reserving "Super Series" may do so by telephoning either the Dodgers' publicity department at (213) 224-1301 or the Angels' Sales & Marketing Department at (714) 634-2000. There is no charge for use of the film, but it is loaned on a day-to-day basis by both teams.

The Dodgers and Angels also have other films available for group showing, including prior year's World Series action.

Forfeit ruins Scots' streak

Upland High's 36 straight dual meet winning streak in San Antonio League wrestling action came to an unexpected end Thursday, as the Highlanders had to forfeit their scheduled SAL match with Claremont due to illness.

Scot coach George Beresford and most of the Upland squad came down with the flu this week, and the Scots were unable to field a team against Claremont. The loss is the first for the Scots in SAL dual meet action since 1970.

"The Upland coach called me last night and told me the news," stated Claremont coach Jim Broncatello. "Frankly, I would have rather wrestled the match, our kids were looking forward to it. I don't think the forfeit will hurt Upland that much, I expect that the league finals will decide the SAL champ anyway." Upland is now 1-1 in SAL action while Claremont is 2-0.

In the other SAL action Thursday, Garey routed Ganesha 52-11 and Montclair edged Chino 35-31.

Garey (now 2-0) won the first six matches against cross-town rival Ganesha (0-2) to easily capture the victory. Victor Lizama and Mario Olmos pinned their opponents in the 97 and 105-pound classes respectively to get the Vikings off to a flying start in the match.

One surprise did appear, however, as Garey's Tommy Larry was held to a draw by Ganesha's Pete Fleming in the 140-pound class. Larry had been undefeated and untied in 21 prior matches this season.

Two Giant forfeits (in the 114-pound class to Randy Dexter and in the 193-pound division to Richard Saville) also hurt the losers' cause.

Montclair used a key pin by Jose Reya in his 177-pound match and three Chino forfeits to best the Cowboys.

Chino (now 0-2) forfeited the 105-pound match (to Mike Farley), the 114-pound match (to Terry Farley) and the heavyweight match (to Don Markley) and was unable to make up the difference despite pinning three Cav grapplers.

John Rohner, Richard Almendarez and Joe Alaniz scored the pins for the Cowboys, but the Reya pin in the 177-pound match nailed down the win for Montclair and pushed the Cavs' SAL mark to 2-0.

In a key Hacienda League match, Ontario took over sole possession of first place by bouncing Alta Loma 40-15.

Pins by Bill Haselrig, Larry Cutbirth, Dan Brooks and Don Miller paced the Jaguar victory, leaving Ontario with a spotless 4-0 H.L. dual meet ledger. Alta Loma is now 3-1 in league meets.

Avian cholera threat easing

As hunters abandoned favorite areas with the closing of the general waterflow seasons over the weekend, wintering waterflow began redistributing themselves in northern and central California, easing the threat of avian cholera in a water-short year.

This was the assessment of the Department of Fish and Game after five weeks of a joint federal-state battle against the disease which has claimed upwards of 20,000 birds this season.

Losses were continuing at a slower rate on the Sacramento National Wildlife Refuge seven miles south of Willows, hardest hit of the areas.

In the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta where two airboats had been picking up dead birds and scattering healthy waterfowl, operations were suspended while the boats were being repaired. The four-man Fish and Game crew was expected to be back at work there soon.

Casualties in limited numbers also were reported on the McBride Ranch in Humboldt County and on the Merced NWR in the San Joaquin Valley, northernmost and southernmost points in the area covered by the outbreak.

Brian Hunter, wildlife pathologist with the DFG in Sacramento, said the little rainfall provided no help to hard-pressed cholera fighters. "we need a lot of rain, virtually flood conditions in trouble areas," he said.

Affected birds spread the disease on the ground and through the water by their droppings and by nasal discharge.

Waterfowl will remain in the central and north state until March.

S.B. stream cleaned up

Trout fishermen who visit Deep Creek in San Bernardino County this spring are going to find it a lot cleaner, thanks to a litter and trash removal project staged by two fishermen's clubs.

Members of the Tri-City Fly Fishers of Riverside and the San Gabriel Valley Fly Fishers gathered a truckload of trash and litter from more than three miles of the stream, from Fisherman's Camp to Splinters Cabin.

Gunny sacks to gather the trash and a truck to haul it away were provided by the U.S. Forest Service.

This is the second year that members of fly fishermen's clubs have cleaned up the area.

Deep Creek, from its headwaters at Little Green Valley to Coxey Creek, has been designated a fly fishing only stream, and a special three-trout limit and six-inch minimum size has been declared for that part of the stream.

Maryland has won the Atlantic Coast Conference indoor track title the past 20 years.

Anchovy fishing stopped by DFG

The Department of Fish and Game has ordered a halt to commercial anchovy fishing in Southern California waters.

Telegrams closing the fishery were sent last Friday afternoon to fish processors engaged in the anchovy reduction fishery when it appeared that the annual quota would be reached today.

Representatives of the commercial anchovy fishing industry are expected to appear before the Fish and Game Commission when it meets Friday in Ventura to request an increase in the quota. They have not indicated the amount of the increase they will seek.

Commercial anchovy fishermen have reached the annual 100,000 ton quota for the southern zone in two previous seasons, 1973-74 and 1974-75.

In 1974 the commission granted a 20,000 ton increase for the season, coupled with a ban on fishing within 12 miles of shore and shortening of the season by 15 days. When the season closed on April 30, landings totalled 109,368 tons.

Last year the commission approved an increase to the seasonal quota of 15,000 tons without any further restrictions on fishing areas or the length of the season. Landings totalled 109,848 when the season ended May 15.

Regulations adopted by the state Fish and Game Commission provide for a 100,000 ton annual quota in waters between Pt. Buchon in San Luis Obispo County and the Mexican border and a 15,000 ton quota in waters north of Pt. Buchon.

The regulations also provide for the Department of Fish and Game to monitor the landings and to order a halt to fishing if it appears the quota will be reached before the end of the season.

The season in Southern California runs from Sept. 15 to May 15. The telegrams, giving 48 hours notice, were sent Friday afternoon when the landings reached a total of 98,462 tons.

The seasonal quota for waters north of Pt. Buchon is 15,000 tons, and as of late Friday, landings for that area totalled 4,548 tons.

Tortoise protection concerns Pomona man

Maximus has nibbled on desert flowers of the Mojave Desert for 50 springs or more; no one can be sure. An estimate of his age is made difficult by shell plates worn smooth of age lines by countless trips in and out of sandy burrous.

Multilation of his shell — perhaps from an ancient coyote bite — makes jusgment doubly difficult.

Maximus is a California desert tortoise, the largest — if not the oldest — ever seen by biologists of the California Department of Fish and Game.

He weights 23⅞ pounds and measures 15 inches across the shell. A 15-pound desert tortoise is a rarity, a 20-pound tortoise is almost unheard of.

Fish and Game biologist James St. Amant of Pomona is caring for Max, trying to cure a respiratory ailment that has brought discomfort to reptilian old age. Sniffles and wheezing are not uncommon to the desert tortoise. They often occur when tortoises are taken from the desert and brought to the relatively damp coastal zone.

That is what happened to Max. Someone found him in the desert and brought him to Los Angeles.

A similar fate has befallen thousand of other desert tortoises, according to St. Amant.

"It's unconscious cruelty," St. Amant said. "It has taken tens of thousands of years for the tortoise to adapt to the hostile environment of the southwestern desert, then someone comes along, thinks it will make a cute pet, and carts it home to Torrance. The tortoise can't be expected to cope with new surroundings that fast. Furthermore, it is against the law."

Since 1961 it has been against the state law to take a California desert tortoise (Gopherus agassizii), and in 1973 it became unlawful to take any desert tortoise of the genus Gopherus. Possession of tortoise obtained prior to passage of these laws is allowed provided a permit is obtained from the Department of Fish and Game. Thus far more than 4,000 of these free permits have been issued.

The reason for including all desert tortoises in the latest law was the confusion that had risen over identification of the four major species of desert tortoise.

In California the native species is the official state reptile, Gopherus agassizii. That's what Max is. The California desert tortoise ranges over Nevada, Arizona, Sonora, Mexico, and Utah, although some experts claim the Utah tortoise is a separate subspecies.

The California tortoise can be recognized by its rounded snout and oval-shaped shell or carapace as it is scientifically known.

The Texas desert tortoise, Gopherus berlandieri, was, until the recent legislative action, the principal species imported for sale as pets.

It resembles the California tortoise except for its pointed snout and a triangular indentation of the forward edge of its shell.

The Gopherus poly phemus, a native of South Carolina and Florida, is seen much less frequently in California, and the rarest of all is the great yellow Mexican tortoise, Gopherus flavomarginatus, so infrequently seen in the Mexican desert that biologists fear it is headed for extinction.

"Sadley," said St. Amant, "the great yellow Mexican tortoise may be merely the first of the desert tortoises to become extinct."

"The inroads of urbanization and the habitat damage caused by recreational vehicles and motorcycles threaten the tortoise's chance for survival," St. Amant says.

"Some people may question that right, but the tortoise is an original desert landholder and represents one of the most ancient groups of animals.

"Moreover," says St. Amant, "the tortoise is completely harmless and inoffensive to man.

"Perhaps this is one of the problems. Well-meaning people may pick up a tortoise and carry it home for a pet, unaware of the impact this may have on that single tortoise or the tortoise society he leaves behind. The death or removal of a few large tortoises, perhaps even one, can destroy a population's breeding capacity for many years."

Locals offer safety course

Chaffey College and Upland Recreation Department will co-sponsor a course in Hunter Safety and Home Firearms Safety, beginning Jan. 31 at the Upland Recreation Center.

The course is offered free of charge and is open to both men and women, age 15 and older. The course will consist of 16 hours of instruction, with two-hour sessions being held each week from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The course will end March 20.

Certificates will be given to those completing the course of instruction.

For further information, call the Upland Recreation Department at (714) 988-3718

Trout plants

The following lakes and streams, listed by county, are scheduled for restocking this week with catchable-size rainbow trout from Department of Fish and Game hatcheries.

LOS ANGELES — Castaic Lake, El Dorado Park Lake, Hansen Reservior, Legg Lake, Pyramid Lake.

RIVERSIDE — Cahuilla Lake, Evans Lake, Perris Lake.

SAN DIEGO — Murray Lake, San Vicente Lake.

VENTURA — Upper Piru Creek.

All stocking is scheduled road and weather conditions permitting.

The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 940 Erickson Dr., Pomona, CA.

The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein.

Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, to-wit: $20,500.24, with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, if any, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust.

The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located.

Date: January 7, 1976.

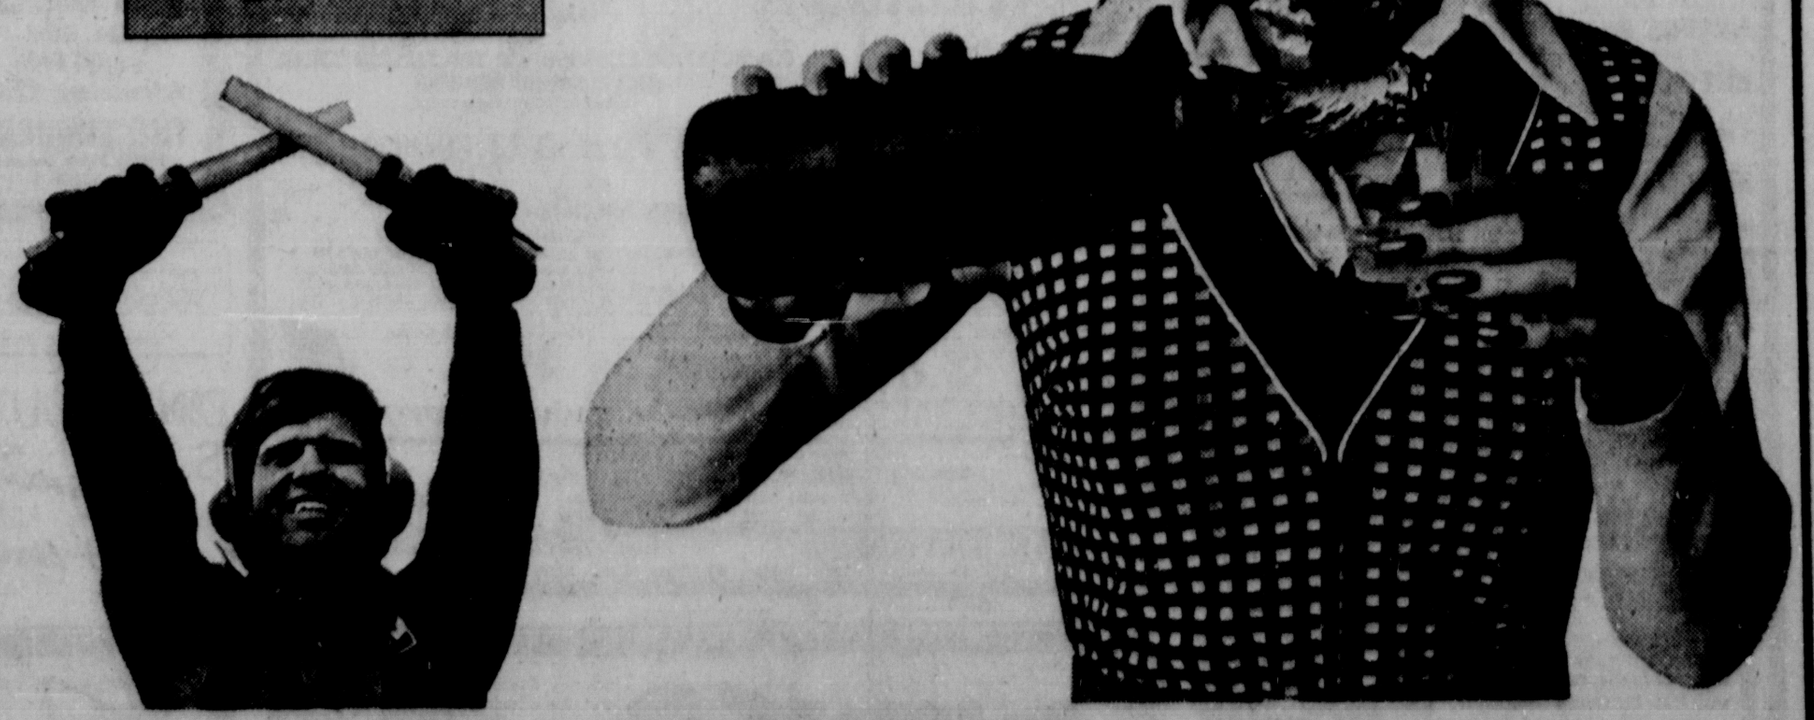
We've got a good thing going to Salt Lake City.

We've got the only nonstops.
Western offers fast, convenient service to Salt Lake, right from Ontario International.

We've got Champagne for you.
Complimentary Champagne for every adult on every flight. Western pioneered that almost twenty years ago...and it's still going strong.



We've got the best on-time record in the business*.
Getting you where you're going on-time is important to us. So important, in fact, that we've been Number One in on-time performance of all major U.S. airlines —three years running. And latest figures look like 1975 will make it four in a row.

*The C.A.B. selects the leading 100 U.S. city pairs for measuring on-time performance. We fly between 13 of these pairs, which represent 34% of our nonstop flights operated.

GARTH "WOODY" ELLWOOD

Last week I had to end rather abruptly because of space limitations. I'll continue where I left off then, talking about Yiannis in Claremont, a friendly little Greek restaurant at 238 Yale.

Yiannis owners John and Stella Gianakos are helped in this family business by their sons, Jim and Greg. Now that I've met them, I'm anxious to try the authentic Greek cuisine which has made them a lot of friends in their 13 year history in downtown Claremont.

Yiannis features 14 full course dinners on their evening menu, and boast a selection of fine wines which will cover your taste (and even, perhaps, extend it). A popular Greek house wine, Retsina, tastes as if it is made with resin (because it is) and has gained many devotees. The dinners there are all served with Greek soup made with egg and lemon, a Greek salad of tossed greens, anchovies, black olives and feta, and Baklava (it's great!) for dessert. Yiannis is open daily from 10 to 10, and has luncheon specials which include some American dishes.

Montclair Plaza's Jolly Roger is making an evening out for two pretty economical. Now, during a special promotion, you can enjoy one of their favorite menu items for a special price . . . two filet mignon steak dinners for $7.95.

The promotion will run until Feb. 29 and is available at almost all of the California and Arizona locations with a coupon. (See last Monday's PB, Page 19.)

The filets come wrapped in bacon and topped with a mushrom cap. The complete dinner includes rice pilaf or your choice of potato (baked, french fried or mashed), garden vegetables, soup du jour or the famous Jolly Roger Buccanneer salad (with sliced cucumbers and marinated mixed beans). AND, you'll also get a piping hot loaf of their freshly baked bread served with the dinner.

Jolly Roger officials credit promotions like this with helping the firm become one of the West's fastest growing restaurant chains. They opened six new locations last year, and have four more scheduled to open with in the next six months.

Last week I remarked on the number of coupons appearing in the Prog lately, and I knew I'd forget some of them. I was reminded of the Arby's coupon offer when their insert fell out of the paper into my lap Sunday morning. The coupon offerings are good through March at all Arby locations, including the local stores at 1175 E. Holt and 2250 No. Garey, Pomona. And coming out in this Sunday's Prog is a money-saver from Burger King, 1245 E. Holt, Pomona . . . 2 100% beef whoppers for $1.09. Look for it on page 2 of TV Week. AND on this page at the bottom of the column is a coupon from Sir George's Royal Buffet, 2072 No. Garey, Pomona. And . . . there will be more coupons coming up. So, be aware of them, clip 'em out, use them.

I met another Garth last week. It's rather an unusual name (in fact I never HAD met one before). I had always figured that I was just a little weird but now I know at least that I have company.

This Garth's a tall dude, a 6'6" basketball player who manages a team in the 6-team men's open league organized under the auspices of the Pomona Parks and Recreation Department. His last name is Daniels and he also plays center for the team sponsored by Mingo's Restaurant in Pomona, and called, appropriately enough, MINGO'S. They play a 15-game triple round robin with the other 5 teams in the league (including one sponsored by Espiau's Restaurant), and play all their games at Garey High School.

I hadn't been up on the mountain for some time, so I decided to drive up last Friday night. The places on Baldy (Ice House, Buckhorn, Mt. Baldy Lodge) seem a little remote, but I found the Ice House to be only 15 minutes above Foothill (no further away really than most places in the Covina area). And the air up there is great! If nothing else, being above the smog level in cool, crisp air makes the effort worthwhile.

Coming to Tiffiny's next Monday night is a group which might interest you. According to their publicity, they dress, look and sound like the Beatles. The group, called RAIN, will be there next Monday, Jan. 26 for one night only.

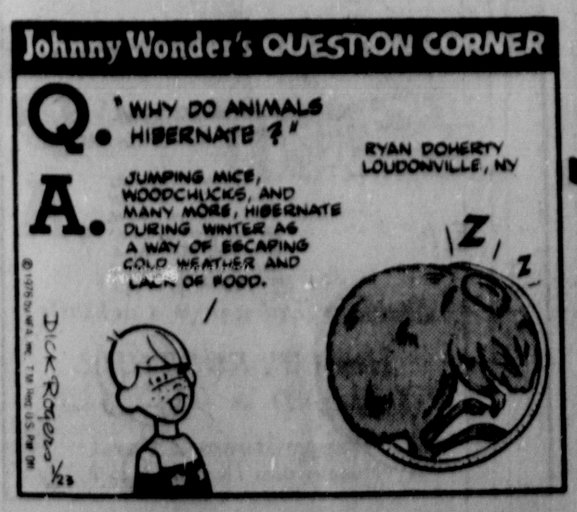
JOHNNY WONDER



In lands that turn cold, woodchucks, ground squirrels, lizards, and many more, hibernate (sleep through the winter).

Winter presents a hardship for all animals where the temperature is freezing. Along with the cold, there is often a shortage of food.

By hibernating, many animals are able to skip the worst days of winter. Animals that hibernate eat a lot of food in the fall, and become very fat. The fat provides energy for life during the months they don't eat.

When cold weather arrives, the hibernator curls up in its den and quickly falls into a deep sleep. It is quite unlike ordinary sleep. The life activities of the hibernator nearly stop.

Its breathing is faint and the heartbeat slows down, while its body temperature is only slightly warmer than the temperature of its den. A true hibernator hardly seems alive.

When spring comes, the animal is awakened by the change in temperature and by hunger.

A World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061

Gallery stages comedy

By JOSEPH H. FIRMAN

The Gallery Theater production of Neil Simon's fast, foolish, frolicsome comedy, "Barefoot in the Park," is fast, foolish and frolicsome, a pleasant evening of empty-headed entertainment.

Personally I have a wearisome sense of deja vu at "The Odd Couple," "Star-Spangled Girl" and others, but the Ontario theater presentation of "Barefoot" sheds new light on the frothy comedy and results in an evening of chuckles.

Dominating the evening's hilarity is the irascible and indomitable Nedra Volz as Mrs. Bradder, the mother-in-law turned outlaw. Roughly the size and shape of a fire hydrant, Miss Volz spouts and sputters her way through Simon's japes with warm, wry, panicky humor. She quacks like Donald Duck, flops like a Raggedy Ann doll, and crashes like Humpty Dumpty. Her double-takes and dead-pan humor are worth the price of admission. She is seen with more and more frequency on television commercials, and watching her whining whims and querulous quirks in "Barefoot," it is easy to see why.

The second standout in the cast is Shaun Fesler as Paul, the recently married young lawyer who searches for writs of mandamus and nolo contenderes in a chilly flat with a chilly bride. Fesler is his customary tough, strident, comic self in a sneezing, outraged, half-swacked portrayal.

Carol Marmer plays Corie, Paul's bride, with vapidity and vigor, a genial but not overly convincing characterization. Gary Hobo does his best with the exotic Mr. Velasco, but lacks the maturity, the suaveness and continental savoire faire to give the role all it needs. Scott Poindexter does well with his cameo as the bewildered telephone repairman.

Mark Shipley's direction is assured and intelligent, moving his players adroitly and drawing from them convincing performances.

"Barefoot" prances at 8 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays through Feb. 14. Reservations can be made at 982-5357.

DORIS DAY is currently touring the country promoting the book, "Doris Day: Her Own Story" by A. F. Hotchner. The writer was dubious when the 51-year-old actress said she wanted to "tell all" in the book but she said she was "tired of her image as the all-American virgin queen."

Chopin expert booked

Pianist Jakob Gimpel, considered by many to be the world's leading authority on Chopin, will give a recital of works by the Polish composer at the Ambassador Auditorium, Pasadena, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Gimpel has had a lifetime association with the romantic works of Chopin. Because of his stature in interpreting the composer, Gimpel has been guest soloist at several official celebrations of Chopin including the Chopin Centennial held at Carnegie Hall in New York.

The recital will include Fantasy in F Minor, which Gimpel has recorded on the Genesis label; 24 preludes, and Sonata in B Minor.

A Los Angeles resident, Gimpel has appeared regularly with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. Since 1971, he has been distinguished professor in residence at Cal State Northridge.

LITERARY LOVERS — Anthony Zerbe and Valerie Harper star in "Dear Liar," opening Feb. 3 at the Huntington Hartford Theater in Hollywood. The two-character play recounts the 40-year love affair between George Bernard Shaw and the British actress, Mrs. Patrick Campbell. Zerbe also directs. The play runs to Feb. 15.

Bridges concert slated

The Claremont Symphony Orchestra, conducted by George Denes, and the Louis Ronfeldt Chorale will present a Bicentennial concert at 4 p.m. Feb. 8 in Bridges Hall, Pomona College.

The program of Americana music is sponsored by the Claremont Bicentennial Performing Arts Committee, with the assistance of the Claremont Junior Woman's Club. Tickets, $1.50 general admission, $1 for students, are on sale at the Claremont Chamber of Commerce, the Frances Paul Travel Service and Memorial Gymnasium, Pomona College.

The Pomona Valley Musicians Club and the Claremont Woman's Club will be hosts at a buffet for members of the orchestra and chorale after the concert.

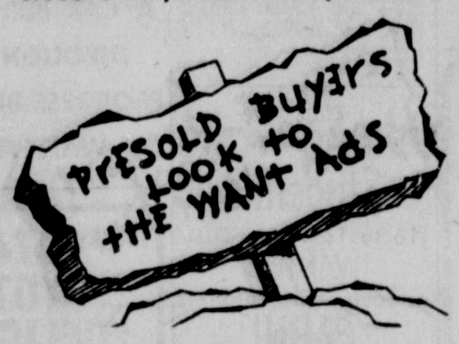
THE PRE-SOLD BUYER

It won't take too much convincing that our desert friend needs water -- he is pre-sold, convinced of his need.

Classified advertising is directed to pre-sold buyers. Buyers who already are convinced that they need the services of an appliance repairman; that they need a car, house or apartment.



The pre-sold buyers look to the Classified section for the answer to their need. If you have the answer to a need ranging from a tuba to a travel trailer; from stereo to scuba equipment, put your message in the Classified section, where the pre-sold buyers are. Pre-sold buyers are easiest to sell.
